

CHAPTER I. GENERAL INTRODUCTION

1.	General Introduction	15
1.1	General aspects of bacteriophages	15
1.1.1	Historical context of bacteriophages	15
1.1.2	Characteristics of bacteriophages	16
1.1.3	Bacteriophages nomenclature	19
1.1.4	Isolation, identification and characterisation	21
1.1.4.1	Bacteriophages isolation	21
1.1.4.2	Bacteriophages identification and characterisation	23
1.2	Bacteriophage therapy	24
1.2.1	Phage therapy approaches	24
1.2.2	Bacteriophage encapsulation	25
1.2.3	Bacteriophage therapy resistance	26
1.3	Bacteriophage therapy against Salmonella	26
1.3.1	Salmonella epidemiology in humans	26
1.3.1.1	Clinical aspects	28
1.3.1.2	Salmonellosis treatment in humans	28
1.3.2	Phage therapy in humans	29
1.3.2.1	Salmonella epidemiology in poultry production	29
1.3.2.2	Main sources of Salmonella contamination in the poultry sector	30
1.3.2.3	Main control measures for Salmonella in the poultry sector	32
1.3.2.4	Phage therapy against Salmonella in the poultry sector	33
1.4	Study cornerstone	33
1.5	References	35

CHAPTER II. OBJECTIVES	45
2. Objectives	47
CHAPTER III. EXPERIMENTAL CHAPTERS	49
3. Experimental chapters	51
3.1 Serovar bacteriophage diversity according to Salmonella serovar in layer and broiler poultry farms	51
3.1.1 Abstract	52
3.1.2 Introduction	53
3.1.3 Material and Methods	54
3.1.4 Results	56
3.1.5 Discussion	59
3.1.6 References	61
3.2 Salmonella Infantis and Salmonella Enteritidis specific bacteriophages isolated from poultry faeces as a complementary tool for cleaning and disinfection against Salmonella	67
3.2.1 Abstract	68
3.2.2 Introduction	69
3.2.3 Material and Methods	70
3.2.4 Results	75
3.2.5 Discussion	80
3.2.6 References	82
3.3 Autophage as a control measure for Salmonella in laying hens	87
3.3.1 Abstract	88
3.3.2 Introduction	89
3.3.3 Material and Methods	90
3.3.4 Results	95
3.3.5 Discussion	97

3.3.6	References	99
CHAPTER IV. GENERAL DISCUSSION		105
4.	General Discussion	107
4.1	References	111
CHAPTER V. CONCLUSIONS		113
5.	Conclusions	115
