TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. INTRODUCTION 37

1.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 37

1.2 BACKGROUND OF THE RESEARCH 37

1.3 RELEVANCE AND TOPIC JUSTIFICATION 40

1.3.1 Research gap 42
1.3.2 Research questions 44

1.4 CONTRIBUTION AND RESEARCH OBJECTIVES 46

1.4.1 General objective 46
1.4.2 Specific objectives 47

1.5 THESIS STRUCTURE 49

2. THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK 53

2.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 53

2.2 SYSTEMATIC LITERATURE REVIEW 53

2.2.1 Research context: current and future research on the area 56

2.3 REVIEW OF THEORETICAL APPROACHES IN BUSINESS ORGANISATION 57

2.3.1 Review of approaches to external business organisation 57
2.3.2 Review of approaches in internal business organisation supporting the principal constructs 59

2.4 THEORIES SUPPORTING THIS DOCTORAL THESIS 61

2.4.1 Resource-based view approach 62
2.4.2 Dynamic capabilities approach 64
2.4.3 Theory of resource orchestration 67

4. DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 75

4.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 75

4.2 DELIMITATION OF THE CONCEPT OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 77

4.2.1 Importance and trends of digital transformation 80

4.3 COMPONENTS AND DIMENSIONS OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 82

4.3.1 Essential components of the digital transformation process 83
4.3.2 Dimensions of digital transformation process 85
4.3.3 Digital transformation pyramid 88

4.4 ANTECEDENTS OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 91

4.5 MEASUREMENT OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 96

4.6 IMPACT OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION IN THE ORGANISATION 100

4.6.1 Human resources management and digital transformation 101

4.7 A FINAL DEFINITION OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 103

5. BIG DATA ANALYTICS CAPABILITIES 107

5.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 107

5.2 BIG DATA: CONCEPTUALISATION AND EVOLUTION OF THE CONCEPT 108

5.3 BIG DATA ANALYTICS: CONCEPT AND IMPLICATIONS 112

5.4 THE CENTRAL CONSTRUCT: BIG DATA ANALYTICS CAPABILITIES 117

5.4.1 Theoretical foundations of the concept 117
5.4.2 Evolution of the concept and definitions 118
5.4.3 Main dimensions of big data analytics capabilities 121
5.4.4 Challenges in the BDA capability building process 124

5 ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE 129

5.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 129

5.2 DELIMITATION OF THE CONCEPT OF ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE 131

5.2.1 Definition of organisational culture 131
5.2.2 Levels of organisational culture 133
5.2.3 Dimensions of organisational culture 136

5.3 MEASURING AND REPRESENTING ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE 138

5.3.1 Competing Values Framework: types of organisational cultures 139
5.3.2 Organisational Culture Assessment Instrument (OCAI) 143

6.1 ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE IN THE DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION CONTEXT 144

6.1.1 What is a digital culture? 144
6.1.2 What is analytical or data-driven culture? 148

5.5 CHALLENGES IN CULTURE CHANGE 152

6 DATA-DRIVEN ORIENTATION 161

6.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 161

6.2 THE ROLE OF THE MANAGER IN DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION 162

6.3 DELIMITATION OF THE CONCEPT OF DATA-DRIVEN ORIENTATION 165

6.3.1 What is data-driven? 165
6.3.2 Definition of data-driven orientation 166

6.4 DIMENSIONS OF DATA-DRIVEN ORIENTATION 169

7 INNOVATION 173

7.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 173

7.2 DELIMITATION OF THE CONCEPT OF INNOVATION 173

7.3 TYPES OF INNOVATION 176

7.4 INNOVATION IN SMES 177

8 PERFORMANCE 181

8.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 181

8.2 DEFINITION OF THE CONCEPT OF PERFORMANCE AND APPROACHES 181

9 RESEARCH MODELS AND HYPOTHESES PROPOSAL 189

9.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 189

9.1.1 The significance of study constructs 190

9.2 THREE RESEARCH MODELS 192

9.2.1 Model 1: Digital transformation and BDA capabilities impacting innovation and performance 192

9.2.2 Model 2: Data-driven orientation and the role of organisational culture in the promotion of digital transformation and BDA capabilities 205

9.2.3 Model 3: Organisational culture typologies in their impact through digital transformation in the promotion of BDA capabilities 218

10 METHODOLOGY 231

10.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 231

10.2 TARGET SAMPLE AND TOTAL POPULATION 231

10.3 DATA DESCRIPTION 236

10.4 RESEARCH DESIGN 244

10.4.1 Empirical study technical data sheet 245

10.4.2 Data collection 245

10.4.3 Measurement instruments of the research model 246

10.5 DATA ANALYSIS PROCESS 267

11 RESULTS 271

11.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 271

11.2 RESULTS OF MODEL 1: DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION AND BDAC IMPACTING INNOVATION AND PERFORMANCE 271

11.2.1 Measurement model 271

11.2.2 Structural model 275

11.2.3 Predictive analysis 277

11.3 RESULTS OF MODEL 2: DATA-DRIVEN ORIENTATION AND THE ROLE OF ORGANISATIONAL CULTURE IN THE PROMOTION OF DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION AND BDA CAPABILITIES 279

11.3.1 Measurement model 279

11.3.2 Structural model 281
11.3.3 Predictive analysis 283

11.4 RESULTS OF MODEL 3: CULTURAL ARCHETYPES AND THEIR IMPACT THROUGH DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION IN THE PROMOTION OF BDA CAPABILITIES 285

11.4.1 Measurement model 285
11.4.2 Structural model 288
11.4.3 Predictive analysis 290

12 CONCLUSIONS 295

12.1 INTRODUCTION AND OBJECTIVES 295

12.2 CONCLUSIONS REGARDING THE CONSTRUCTS OF THE STUDY 295

12.2.1 Digital transformation 296
12.2.2 Big data analytics capabilities 297
12.2.3 Organisational culture 299
12.2.4 Data-driven orientation 301

12.3 CONCLUSIONS REGARDING THE RESEARCH MODELS 302

12.3.1 Model 1: Digital transformation and BDA capabilities impacting innovation and performance 303
12.3.2 Model 2: Data-driven orientation and the role of organisational culture in the promotion of digital transformation and BDA capabilities 305
12.3.3 Model 3: Organisational culture typologies in their impact through digital transformation in the promotion of BDA capabilities 307

12.4 CONTRIBUTIONS TO THEORY 310

12.5 CONCLUSIONS ABOUT THE SAMPLE AND SECTORS STUDIED 311

12.6 PRACTICAL IMPLICATIONS FOR THE ORGANISATION 313

12.7 LIMITATIONS 318

12.8 FUTURE LINES OF RESEARCH 319
