Resumen

Este trabajo pretende ofrecer una propuesta para la mejora de las estrategias de Influencer marketing mediante la identificación de Influencers en medios sociales basada en la demanda de contenidos por parte del resto de usuarios. Para ello, se lleva a cabo un análisis de palabras clave en motores de búsqueda, Hashtags o etiquetas, y publicaciones realizadas por una muestra de Influencers identificados. Para validar la propuesta, se desarrolla un cálculo de medidas que llevan a la creación de un nuevo indicador de influencia.

Palabras clave: Medios sociales, Influencers, Influencer marketing, búsquedas de contenido, Hashtags, vino, indicadores cibernéticos.

1. Introducción

La sociedad cada día está más conectada, ya sea entre personas o entre personas y organizaciones. Los medios sociales llegaron hace ya unos años para acercar a nuestros amigos, familiares o grupos con los que más nos relacionamos. Para finales de 2018, se espera que existan 2.500 millones de personas registradas en por lo menos un medio social. En enero de 2018 Hootsuite publicó el índice de crecimiento anual en usuarios de medios sociales por país, como se muestra en la figura 1 y donde se observa que mundialmente los usuarios han incrementado en un 13% al año anterior.

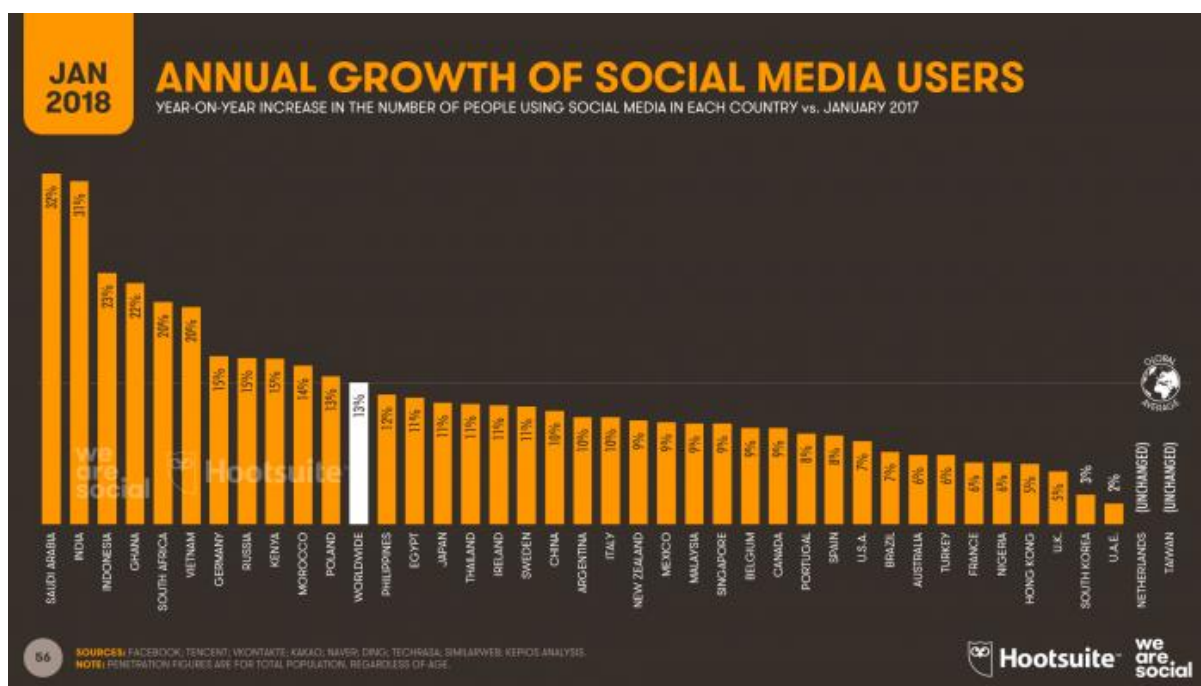

Figura 1. Crecimiento anual de usuarios en medios sociales (Chaffey, 2018)

Conforme han evolucionado los medios sociales, los usuarios ya no solo buscan conectarse o hablar con sus conocidos; ahora los usuarios buscan generar contenido que sea relevante para la comunidad, dar su opinión sobre experiencias con productos o servicios, compartir su ubicación, buscar reseñas sobre una experiencia que están por vivir, o tener un contacto más directo con las empresas u organizaciones con las que antes era imposible tener una “relación”. Los usuarios ya no son solamente personas, pueden ser grandes corporativos, ONG, entidades gubernamentales o grupos anónimos, entre otros.

Así como en el mundo físico y en nuestras relaciones interpersonales existen personas cuyas características o personalidad llaman la atención de otras personas; en los medios sociales existen usuarios, denominados Influencers, que crean contenido que es llamativo para el resto de los usuarios. Estos Influencers cuentan con un gran número de seguidores, personas que están pendientes de sus publicaciones en medios sociales para imitarlas, compartirlas o simplemente admirarlas.

Es inevitable decir que actualmente las redes sociales juegan un papel importante en nuestras vidas; es por eso por lo que muchas empresas han sumado a sus estrategias de comunicación y marketing el generar contenido en medios sociales que pueda agradar a sus clientes existentes o potenciales. Asimismo, existe en el márketing moderno una estrategia de creación de contenido de la mano con los Influencers; a esta estrategia se le denomina Influencer marketing, en la cual empresas e Influencers trabajan juntos para crear contenido que genere reacciones positivas para estos Influencers y ventas para la empresa, siendo una relación ganar-ganar.

Para demostrar la importancia económica, social y cultural que pueden llegar a tener los Influencers tomemos como ejemplo el caso del Chef José Andrés y el vino blanco de Abadía Retuerta<sup>1</sup>. El Chef José Andrés cuenta con más de 671.000 seguidores en Twitter y es famoso por compartir contenido directamente relacionado al sector culinario; el chef publicó una foto del vino blanco Abadía Retuerta, junto con la frase “mi vino del verano”. A partir de esa publicación la centralita de la empresa comenzó a recibir una gran cantidad de pedidos, a pesar de solo quedarle 200 botellas (Álvarez, 2018).

Aquella publicación desinteresada del Influencer y chef José Andrés ayudó a la bodega a aumentar su demanda de productos tanto en España como en mercados internacionales. Con este claro ejemplo, podemos entender el poder y alcance de una publicación en medios sociales que este tipo de usuarios puede llegar a tener (Álvarez, 2018). La sociedad, los mercados y la forma de comunicarnos está cambiando y debemos cambiar con ellos.

Ahora que se entiende el valor que tienen los Influencers dentro de los medios sociales, pareciera que el problema inicial sería su identificación. Para esta cuestión existen diferentes herramientas, el Influencer Marketing Hub presenta 15 plataformas gratuitas para identificar Influencers (Influencer Marketing Hub, 2017):

1. HypeAuditor (<https://hypeauditor.com>)
2. Discover.ly (<https://discover.ly/>)
3. Tweetdeck (<https://tweetdeck.twitter.com/>)
4. Social Crawlytics (<https://socialcrawlytics.com/>)
5. Alltop (<https://alltop.com/>)
6. Podbay.fm (<http://podbay.fm/>)
7. Klout (<https://www.lithium.com/products/klout>)
8. Crowdfire (<https://www.crowdfireapp.com/>)
9. Full Contact (<https://www.fullcontact.com/b/>)
10. SEOquake (<https://www.seoquake.com/>)

12. Personapp (<http://personapp.io/>)
13. Similar Web (<https://www.similarweb.com/>)
14. Buzzsumo (<https://buzzsumo.com/>)
15. GroupHigh Monthly Influencer Lists (<https://www.grouphigh.com/>)

Algunas de estas cuentan con algoritmos más complejos como el índice Klout, donde toman en cuenta diferentes redes sociales, alcance de publicaciones y red de seguidores; otras plataformas más sencillas solo toman en cuenta el número de seguidores. Sin embargo, todas tienen algo en común: basan su identificación de Influencers en contenido existente. En otras palabras, miden el desempeño de las publicaciones existentes en los perfiles de los Influencers para validar si tienen un alto nivel de influencia sobre otros usuarios.

Así es como nace el problema de partida para la realización de este Trabajo Fin de Máster; a pesar de crear contenido que sea relevante y pueda agradar a la audiencia de un Influencer, una parte importante de poder llegar a los usuarios es con publicaciones que directamente satisfagan sus necesidades de información. En otras palabras, los usuarios realizan búsquedas de contenido todos los días, y algunos Influencers toman en cuenta estas búsquedas para la creación de contenido en sus medios sociales, mientras que otros solo publican contenido que esperan tenga buenos resultados.

Es por ello por lo que deben existir herramientas o metodologías de identificación de Influencers basadas en las búsquedas de contenido realizadas por usuarios, más que por contenido ya existente. Con este tipo de identificación de Influencers, la planificación estratégica de Influencer marketing se verá enriquecida, pues las necesidades de los usuarios o clientes potenciales estarán directamente relacionadas con la oferta de contenido ofrecida mediante cooperaciones entre Influencers y empresas u organizaciones.

Puntualmente, este Trabajo Fin de Máster tomará el sector vitivinícola como campo de prueba, del cual se analizarán y estudiarán las búsquedas de usuarios realizadas en motores de búsqueda, análisis de etiquetas y publicaciones de Influencers identificados por contenido relevante.

1.1 Objetivo

El objetivo central de este Trabajo Fin de Máster es diseñar una metodología que permita complementar una estrategia de Influencer Marketing identificando a los principales usuarios en redes sociales, denominados “Influencers”. Esto basado en la demanda de contenido por los usuarios, representado por las principales búsquedas realizadas en motores de búsqueda y análisis de etiquetas, denominadas “Hashtags”.

1.1.1 Objetivos específicos

- Identificar los principales Influencers del mundo especializados en el sector del vino (como ejemplo de validación) para analizar sus publicaciones en medios sociales.
- Extraer y organizar las últimas publicaciones en Twitter de los Influencers para integrarlas en una base de datos.
- Integrar las palabras claves en motores de búsqueda, y las principales etiquetas en los medios sociales que sean más relevantes en la industria del vino.
- Crear medidas relevantes sobre los datos recopilados y representarlas de manera visual como cuadros de mando junto con un indicador para la validación de Influencers.

1.2 Motivación

La motivación para la realización de este Trabajo Fin de Máster es personal, pero también está alineada al desarrollo profesional que se busca. Cuando los adolescentes empezaron a registrarse en las redes sociales por primera vez, a pesar de ser muy jóvenes para ello, les empezó a causar una fascinación el poder de comunicación que se podía alcanzar con ellas. En 2009 cuando Facebook comenzó a ser bastante popular, esta fascinación creció aún más. Es una realidad que aquellos adolescentes, o Millennials, son una generación que ha ido creciendo con la innovación de medios sociales, junto con el crecimiento y propagación de internet, así que podría decirse que hoy es parte de lo que les identifica como personas.

El marketing hoy día da las herramientas y conocimientos para poder tener un pensamiento más crítico en el manejo de medios sociales que tienen los individuos o las diferentes organizaciones que se “siguen” en ellas. De esto también nace la principal motivación en dedicarle el tiempo y empeño a analizar y entender mejor cómo se desenvuelven los usuarios dentro de los medios sociales; como lo que dice un usuario puede afectar el pensamiento o las acciones de otros, y cómo esto se puede incluso monetizar para las industrias.

El vino es una industria dinámica que debe adaptarse a los cambios generacionales, eso sin contar los mismos cambios que sufre la propia producción. Precisamente esos cambios en los consumidores de la industria van de la mano con la digitalización del consumo; compras por internet o las compras basada en reseñas y comentarios en foros. Existen áreas de oportunidad en el mercado del vino sobre oportunidades de negocio, que pueden ser cerradas con el correcto manejo del contenido en internet por parte de los diferentes agentes que participan en la industria; productores, vendedores y consumidores.

Así que la motivación para la realización de este Trabajo Fin de Máster es cubrir las áreas de oportunidad que hoy existen en el estudio de los medios sociales en el sector del vino. Si bien existen análisis de sentimientos sobre el contenido que se publica, no hay registro de análisis sobre una metodología que ayude a relacionar y contrastar las publicaciones en medios sociales sobre los diferentes tipos de usuarios. Asimismo, no existe un análisis sobre el crecimiento de usuarios influyentes en medios sociales, con el cambiante y exigente mercado que hoy demanda a la industria del vino.

Se busca desarrollar este Trabajo Fin de Máster con los conocimientos aportados por el Máster en Gestión de la Información y la experiencia que se tiene hoy en el tema. Sin embargo, no se pretende quedar ahí, se busca poder continuar estudiando este sector, quizás en un futuro doctorado o como parte de una consultora o de una empresa del sector del vino. Es un tema de bastante interés, con varias áreas de oportunidad que necesitan ser atacadas.

2. Estado de la cuestión

Los medios sociales son una tecnología informatizada que permite el intercambio de contenido entre los diferentes usuarios. En otras palabras, es una herramienta que permite conectar personas, comunidades, organizaciones y/o grupos, mediante el intercambio de imágenes, vídeos o texto (Investopedia, 2018). Sin embargo, los medios sociales van mucho más allá de su propia definición. Estos han logrado unir personas, darles voz a comunidades y fomentar el crecimiento de negocios.

Se espera que para finales de 2018 existan 2.500 millones de personas registradas en por lo menos algún medio social; donde el 90% de los usuarios suelen tener entre 18 y 29 años (Investopedia, 2018). Entre las plataformas más populares a la fecha están Facebook, Instagram y Twitter, donde los usuarios pasan en promedio 35, 15 y 3 minutos diarios en promedio respectivamente (Spredfast, 2018).

En Internet no solo juegan un papel importante los medios sociales. Los motores de búsqueda permiten a los usuarios hacer todo tipo de consultas hasta encontrar el contenido deseado. Entre todos los disponibles, Google es el más utilizado en la Web (Alexa, 2018). El algoritmo de Google cuenta con una gran cantidad de funciones que, aunque la empresa no hace público el detalle de este, se hacen entre 500 y 600 actualizaciones al año que cambian las clasificaciones y el tráfico orgánico de sitios web para precisamente mejorar la optimización del motor de búsqueda (DeMers, 2018).

Una de las herramientas de Google es el “Keyword Planner” o “Planificador de Palabras Clave”. Esta herramienta permite a empresas descubrir palabras clave relativas a sus negocios y comparar las tendencias entre ellas para poder diseñar campañas en AdWords más eficaces y alineadas a su negocio (Google Ads, 2018).

2.1 Los Medios Sociales

Hemos hablado sobre la naturaleza de los medios sociales, pero es importante indicar que a pesar de que muchos se conozcan con el nombre de “redes sociales”, existen diferentes tipos clasificados por sus características.

- Redes Sociales. Estas pretenden conectar usuarios (personas o entidades), ayudando a fortalecer relaciones compartiendo información y haciendo una conversación dinámica entre los mismos usuarios. Entre estas están Facebook y Twitter.
- Medios de intercambio de contenido digital. Estos medios aportan un nuevo método de comunicación, involucrando a los usuarios de una manera más dinámica. Estas ayudan a empresas a tener una mayor presencia de marca y a generar iniciativas de acción en los usuarios. Entre las más populares se encuentran Instagram y YouTube (Foreman, 2017).

- Foros de discusión. Siendo unos de los medios sociales más antiguos; buscan encontrar, discutir y compartir información y opiniones. Reddit y Quora son los más usados de momento.
- Redes de recolección y comparación de contenido. Algunas como Pinterest o Flipboard, permiten a los usuarios encontrar contenido digital y organizarlo a su preferencia. Cada contenido puede llevar al usuario a enlaces destino en otros sitios web, según sea la intención de la publicación original.
- Redes de evaluación por consumidores. En estas, consumidores del producto o servicio en cuestión hablan sobre su opinión y experiencia para retroalimentar a la empresa o a futuros consumidores potenciales. Entre las más populares están TripAdvisor o Yelp.
- Redes de publicación y blogs. Estas permiten crear, publicar y descubrir contenido en línea, creando una comunidad alrededor del sitio. Medios como WordPress y Tumblr son los más utilizados.
- Redes de compra online. En estas el objetivo es buscar tendencias, seguir marcas y compartir descubrimientos de productos. Polyvore y Etsy buscan crear reconocimiento de marca y ayudar a interconectar consumidores y tiendas.
- Redes basadas en intereses. Estas buscan conectar usuarios con los mismos intereses y pasatiempos, como Goodreads o Houzz.
- Redes de economías compartidas. Estas redes como Airbnb o Uber buscan promocionar, compartir, vender o comprar servicios entre usuarios
- Medios sociales anónimos. Medios como Whisper o Ask permiten que todo el contenido compartido sea anónimo (Foreman, 2017).

Hoy muchas plataformas pretenden incluir las funciones de varias de estas categorías en ellas, como Instagram incluyendo las funciones de una red de compra online en su plataforma de intercambio de contenido, o Facebook incluyendo las funciones de evaluación por consumidores y economías compartidas en su medio social. Entendiéndose que una plataforma puede pertenecer a diferentes categorías.

Así como existen diferentes tipos de medios sociales, existen diferentes perfiles de usuarios dentro de ellas. Las personas tienen diferentes personalidades que se manifiestan en su comportamiento diario y lo mismo pasa en los medios sociales, su actividad dentro de ellos permite que se les clasifique en un perfil (Top Dog Social Media, 2017). Entender las siguientes categorías de perfiles de usuario en medios sociales puede ayudar a las empresas a alinear su contenido dependiendo de a qué público objetivo pretende llegar.

- Oyente: es activo en medios sociales, pero prefiere mantenerse fuera del radar. No suele comentar ni participar. Es alcanzable mediante sus amigos cercanos familiares, o mediante contenido promocional pagado.
- Activista: es muy activo en medios sociales, suele compartir, publicar y comentar contenido. Este perfil ayuda a propagar contenido que le llama la atención.
- Saturador: este usuario cree que todo el contenido con el que se topa es de calidad y llega a saturar de información a su entorno (Top Dog Social Media, 2017).

- Apasionado: suele compartir sus intereses e información que le apasiona. Es importante identificar los verdaderos intereses de este perfil para poder llegar a él.
- Social: suele ser el más popular en medios sociales. Le gusta demostrar mediante diferentes tipos de contenido lo interconectadas que son las redes. Se puede llegar a ellos con contenido actualizado y vanguardista.
- Desagradable: son usuarios que comparten contenido desagradable o delicado para ciertas audiencias. Lo mejor es evitarlos.
- Maestro: su objetivo es compartir conocimiento. Este perfil busca ayudar a otros a conocer y aprender sobre nuevos temas, compartiendo contenido que considera de calidad (Top Dog Social Media, 2017).
- Adoptante: es aquel usuario que prueba todas las nuevas tecnologías y le gusta estar presente desde su lanzamiento.
- Práctico: usa los medios sociales para comunicarse. Suele quedarse con el medio social que le aporte más beneficios para sus actividades o intereses.
- Familiar: usan los medios sociales para estar cerca de las personas que más les importan. Asimismo, valoran mucho su intimidad (Top Dog Social Media, 2017).

Para este Trabajo Fin de Máster, se busca hacer el uso de dos medios sociales; Twitter e Instagram. Tan solo en España, de todas las personas activas en medios sociales 47,1% utiliza Instagram y 46,4% utiliza Twitter. Asimismo, de las personas activas el 52,9% sigue a una empresas o marcas en alguna de sus medios sociales (Moreno, 2018).

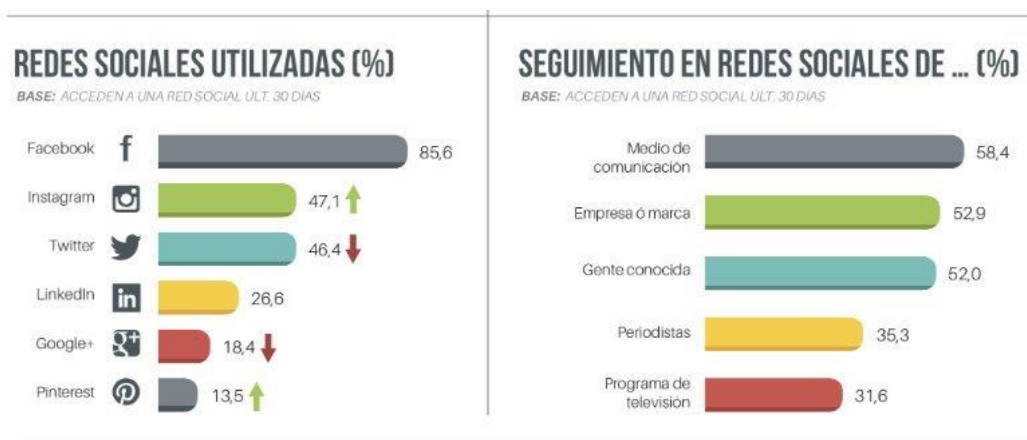

Figura 2. Uso de medios sociales (Moreno, 2018)

Twitter es una red que permite escribir mensajes de texto de hasta 280 caracteres que se denominan “tweets”. Estos mensajes se comparten a otros usuarios que se han suscrito al usuario autor, llamados “seguidores”, o al público en general si la cuenta del autor no es privada. Los usuarios pueden hacer “retweet” de tweets, esto consiste en volver a publicar este tweet para que más personas puedan verlo. También pueden realizarse búsquedas con palabras clave. Twitter permite hacer la conexión entre contenidos similares con el uso de etiquetas o “Hashtags”. Más adelante hablaremos sobre esta función (Twitter, 2018).

Mundialmente Twitter tiene alrededor de 317 millones de usuarios activos mensualmente, de los cuales el 36% tiene entre 18 y 29 años, el 23% entre 30 y 49 años, el 21% entre 50 y 64 años y el 10% más de 65 años. Del total de usuarios, el 84% utiliza este medio social para encontrar promociones, opiniones o ideas y el 79% comparte contenido (Spredfast, 2018).

Twitter tiene disponible una API-REST (Application Programming Interface - Representational State Transfer) con la cual se puede acceder a información sobre tweets, seguidores, usuarios y estructuras sociales para su análisis. Para esto es necesario tener una cuenta en Twitter y registrar una aplicación en la sección de desarrolladores de su sitio web (Steinert, 2018). El análisis de datos en Twitter es muy enriquecedor ya que los usuarios generan 500 millones de mensajes diarios, desde diferentes segmentos de población y tratando diferentes temas. Se podría decir que casi cualquier tema o evento queda registrado en esta plataforma lo que permiten el análisis de predicciones, polarizaciones, datos demográficos, datos económicos, geográficos y de sentimiento (Steinert, 2018).

Instagram es una plataforma que permite a usuarios compartir fotos y videos con una descripción relacionada, e incluso la localización geográfica. Este contenido se comparte entre sus seguidores. Asimismo, cuenta con funciones de ver, comentar y dar “me gusta” a otras publicaciones (Instagram, 2018). Los Hashtags también pueden utilizarse para relacionar publicaciones entre sí y facilitar la búsqueda de contenido relacionado para los usuarios.

La plataforma cuenta con 800 millones de usuarios activos mensualmente en todo el mundo. De estos 59% tiene entre 18 y 29 años, 33% entre 30 y 49 años, 13% entre 50 y 64 años y 8% más de 65 años. Del total de usuarios el 53% de la población adolescente comenta que Instagram es la mejor plataforma para conocer nuevos productos (Spredfast, 2018).

Instagram tiene disponible también una API para ayudar a desarrolladores a crear aplicaciones y servicios que ayuden a personas a compartir contenido propio desde plataformas ajenas a Instagram. También, ayudar a marcas y anunciantes a manejar su audiencia y derechos de contenido. Y finalmente, ayudar a difusores y creadores de contenido descubrir medios y darles los derechos correspondientes (Instagram, 2018).

2.1.1 Hashtags

Se ha introducido antes el concepto de “Hashtag”, pero es importante que se desarrolle más. Existen miles de publicaciones en los medios sociales, estas pueden o no estar relacionadas a un mismo tema. Los “Hashtags” o etiquetas son palabras o frases (sin espacios), antecedidas con el símbolo #. Estos ayudan a clasificar o relacionar una publicación con un tema en concreto, haciendo más fácil la búsqueda de contenido relacionado en los medios sociales (Marks, 2018).

El uso de Hashtags permite que el contenido publicado no se limite solamente a la audiencia que sigue al usuario autor; al agregar un Hashtag el contenido estará disponible para cualquier usuario interesado en el tema comprendido en la etiqueta. No obstante, el uso de estas etiquetas debe ser muy premeditado. Por ejemplo, si la cuenta de una zumería hace una publicación parecería fácil usar el Hashtag #fruta; pero esto podría desviar el objetivo de la publicación, ya que esta etiqueta puede relacionarse con algo tan básico como un árbol de manzanas; mientras que la etiqueta #zumonatural acota los resultados (Marks, 2018).

Los Hashtags se pueden categorizar en 3 tipos para su uso en medios sociales:

1. De contenido. Estos están directamente relacionados con el contenido de la publicación, suelen ser los más básicos y genéricos (Marks, 2018). Por ejemplo, una cafetería usaría #cafe o #expresso.
2. Tendencias. Estas etiquetas son aquellas con un alto nivel de popularidad en el momento, entre los usuarios. Esto puede ser algún evento popular como #Mundial2018 o una frase con la que los usuarios están creando contenido como #LunesconLde. Cuando se utilizan los Hashtags en tendencia, es importante buscar la relación entre estos y el contenido a publicar, ya que si no existe una relación puede confundir a la audiencia (Marks, 2018).
3. Específicos. Algunas veces los Hashtags genéricos se pueden perder en la creación de contenido, por ello algunas marcas deciden identificarse con una etiqueta específica (Marks, 2018). Estas pueden utilizarse para campañas de marketing concretas, eventos, concursos, etc. Como por ejemplo la empresa McDonald's que es popular por su etiqueta #ImLovinIt

Finalmente existen recomendaciones sobre el uso correcto de los Hashtags en los medios sociales, con el objetivo de no perder su objetivo principal o llegar a perjudicar la publicación en cuestión.

- Debe ser corto. Las frases muy largas no llaman la atención de los usuarios y no crean una relación con otro contenido similar.
- No se debe abusar de ellos. Escribir un texto poniendo símbolo # antes de cada palabra no funciona, será difícil de leer y la relación con el contenido no será relevante.
- Debe ser usado estratégicamente. Es posible que algunas etiquetas sean usadas por la competencia, es por eso por lo que se debe plantear si estas son convenientes o no para la empresa o usuario autor, dependiendo de su estrategia de marketing (Marks, 2018).

Por ejemplo, una etiqueta como #Verano es bastante popular y puede atraer a un gran número de usuarios, pero existen miles de publicaciones con la misma etiqueta que pueden hacer que la publicación en cuestión se pierda entre ellas.

2.1.2 Influencers

Los Influencers son usuarios de medios sociales con un gran número de seguidores. Estos se dedican a compartir contenido que tiene un fuerte poder de influencia sobre la opinión o decisión de compra de otros usuarios. Existen Influencers por industria o tema en concreto. Para poder evaluar si un usuario es Influencer o no, el indicador más utilizado en el mercado es el “Klout Score”, este asigna un valor entre 1 y 100 dependiendo de la influencia de cada usuario. (Klout, 2018).

Klout, quien fue comprado por la empresa Lithium el 25 de mayo de 2018, fue creada como un algoritmo y servicio web por el empresario Joe Fernández con el objetivo de identificar de manera calculada a los usuarios con más influencia en las redes sociales (Klout, 2018). Para calcular el indicador Klout se consideran 3 variables importantes:

- Alcance: volumen de usuarios a los que llega el contenido
- Amplificación: nivel al que se comparte el contenido creado
- Red: número y tipo de usuarios que siguen al Influencer potencial

Se mide el tamaño de la red del usuario y se correlaciona con el volumen del contenido creado, calculando también como otros usuarios interactúan con ese contenido. Se usan datos como el número de seguidores, comparticiones de contenido, miembros, suscriptores, conteo de seguidores con cuentas falsas y menciones de otras cuentas en las publicaciones. Klout usa la información del usuario en diferentes medios sociales; Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, YouTube, etc.

Entre mayor sea la puntuación más influyente es el usuario (Klout, 2018). Se considera que usuarios con un valor mayor a 63 son Influencers. Existen otras herramientas de análisis de influencia propias de cada medio social; sin embargo, este indicador es el más reconocido por la comunidad en medios sociales con un valor suficiente para evaluar y determinar a estos usuarios.

Actualmente, con el crecimiento acelerado de los medios sociales y el involucramiento de usuario en ellas, los clientes potenciales están buscando a otros consumidores para consultar sus experiencias de compra, en lugar de recurrir a las mismas empresas como se hacía antes. El término Influencer marketing se ha estandarizado en los últimos años como la forma de publicidad en la que las marcas se enfocan a individuos, sobre el mercado objetivo, llevando a empresas de diferentes sectores a tener grandes resultados (ADWEEK, 2015).

El Influencer Marketing Hub, describe las tendencias que se esperan del Influencer marketing este 2018, después de haber predicho exitosamente las de 2017 (Influencer MarketingHub, 2018).

- Los Influencers se volverán más importantes conforme las personas diseñan sus propias experiencias
- Los Influencers les darán más valor a sus marcas personales
- Los Influencers crearán más contenido para las marcas de empresas ajenas a ellos

- Las marcas o empresas crearán relaciones a largo plazo con los Influencers que más se relacionen con ellos
- Las campañas de Influencer marketing se irán propagando por más medios sociales llegando a más usuarios
- Se dará más énfasis al contenido digital original como fotos y vídeo

Sin duda, tras el crecimiento del Influencer marketing de 198% en 2017, se espera que estos usuarios ayuden al crecimiento de las marcas en términos de reconocimiento de marca y el involucramiento de los usuarios con sus productos y servicios, que potencialmente desencadenará en una intención de compra (Smart Insights, 2017). Asimismo, el Influencer marketing está empezando a ser regulado y medido como tal, al ser un nicho con un crecimiento acelerado. Tan solo en 2017 más de 1 millón y medio de publicaciones se identificaron con la etiqueta #ad, identificándose como colaboraciones comerciales entre empresas e Influencers (Smart Insights, 2017).

2.1.3 Análisis de contenido

El análisis de contenido en medios sociales, como hemos hablado anteriormente, es importante para que usuarios y empresas puedan definir, perfeccionar y corregir su estrategia de generación de contenido dentro de ellas. Sin embargo, todos parecen tomar la misma línea; análisis de sentimiento sobre el texto de las publicaciones. Este es el caso del informe publicado en agosto de 2017 por la universidad de Rochester titulado “Whose and what social media complaints have happier resolutions?”. En este se analiza el texto de diversos tweets para identificar si el vocabulario y tono que se usa denota un sentimiento positivo o negativo mediante la evaluación de las palabras utilizadas (Gunarathne, Rui, & Seidmann, 2017).

Cabe mencionar que empresas suelen apegarse al análisis que les ofrecen las mismas plataformas para el análisis de su desempeño en ellas. Facebook ayuda a analizar la tendencias y resultados de sus campañas de publicidad dentro de la plataforma o el desempeño de sus publicaciones en términos de likes e impresiones. Asimismo, Twitter e Instagram proveen de herramientas de análisis a los usuarios para entender el comportamiento y tendencias que se desarrollan alrededor de sus cuentas. Sin embargo, existe un área de oportunidad en la disponibilidad de modelos que puedan evaluar lo que se dice en medios sociales, contra el contenido que los usuarios realmente están buscando.

Es importante que las empresas diseñen sus estrategias de creación de contenido en los medios sociales y que dicha estrategia esté creada en torno a lo que los usuarios realmente están buscando. Esto se puede identificar mediante el análisis de búsquedas por usuarios, contra el desempeño de publicaciones en medios sociales. Los usuarios no piden directamente contenido, son sus acciones y manifestaciones en medios sociales las que ayudan a comprender lo que ellos realmente están buscando.

2.2 Posicionamiento web

El posicionamiento web, también conocido como SEO por sus siglas en inglés (Search Engine Optimization), es la práctica para incrementar la cantidad y calidad de tráfico que se dirige a un sitio web, mediante la mejora de visibilidad dentro de los resultados orgánicos en un motor de búsqueda (Moz, 2018).

Los 3 puntos importantes en el posicionamiento web son:

1. Calidad del tráfico: atraer tráfico que está realmente interesado en el contenido o el sitio web.
2. Cantidad del tráfico: atraer la mayor cantidad de personas. Es decir, que el mayor número de personas posibles seleccionan el sitio web en cuestión, sobre el resto de las opciones.
3. Resultados orgánicos: Muchos resultados de búsqueda suelen ser anuncios pagados. Los resultados orgánicos corresponden al tráfico por el que no se está pagando.

A grandes rasgos, el posicionamiento web funciona de la siguiente manera: El motor de búsqueda tiene un rastreador que recopila toda la información sobre lo que pueda estar en internet para crear un índice. Cuando un usuario realiza una consulta en el motor de búsqueda, el algoritmo correspondiente hace coincidir la consulta con el contenido de dicho índice. En otras palabras, el posicionamiento web lo que hace es que estos motores de búsqueda puedan identificar y entender mejor cuál es el contenido, para que los usuarios encuentren fácilmente lo que realmente buscan tras una consulta (Moz, 2018).

2.2.1 Palabras Clave

Las palabras clave son ideas o temas que ayudan a definir o identificar contenido. Cuando hablamos de posicionamiento web, las palabras clave son palabras únicas o frases cortas que los usuarios ingresan en los motores de búsqueda para llegar al contenido deseado (Moz, 2017). Es por ello por lo que es importante para los creadores de contenido web identificar las palabras clave que más se relacionen con dicho contenido, para que así los usuarios puedan encontrarlo fácilmente.

La importancia de las palabras clave recae en poder enlazar lo que la gente busca con el contenido que se ofrece; siendo el objetivo principal guiar tráfico orgánico, no pagado, hacia el contenido correspondiente. Sin embargo, es tan importante a la hora de elegir las palabras clave entender el contenido a mostrar como conocer al público objetivo o audiencia, para lo cual se deben entender sus necesidades, su vocabulario y el tipo de contenido que están deseando encontrar.

Algunos autores definen cuatro categorías para clasificar las intenciones de las palabras clave; de navegación, información, investigación y transacción (Roggio, 2017).

- Navegación: cuando el usuario busca un sitio web en particular.
- Información: cuando el usuario pretende encontrar la respuesta a un cuestionamiento.
- Investigación: es la búsqueda de información sobre un objeto o tema que puede desencadenar en una transacción.
- Transacción: cuando el usuario está buscando realizar una acción, como puede ser comprar o descargar.

Sin embargo, en su informe de directrices para la evaluación de búsquedas, Google enlista cuatro tipos de búsquedas, para las cuales los usuarios pueden hacer la misma catalogación de palabras clave (Google, 2018):

- Know (saber): búsqueda de información sobre un tema u objeto o la respuesta a un cuestionamiento.
- Do (hacer): llevar a cabo una acción o cumplir un objetivo. Incluyendo comprar, descargar o instalar
- Sitio web: busca identificar y visitar un sitio web específico.
- Visita en persona: es cuando el usuario busca realizar una acción física basado en los resultados de la búsqueda.

Una vez se han identificado y entendido las palabras clave, lo siguiente es evaluarlas en base a diferentes criterios.

- Búsquedas promedio: se refiere a la popularidad de la palabra clave, entre mayor sea el número promedio de búsquedas, más es la popularidad de la misma.
- Competencia: Suele medirse como alta, media o baja. A más competencia, se compromete su efectividad del posicionamiento web. Por eso es necesario encontrar el conjunto de palabras clave que hagan una relación directa y relevante al contenido que se pretende posicionar.
- Relevancia: Tras el análisis de palabras clave pueden existir resultados relacionados con un gran número de impresiones pero que cualitativamente no describen el contenido en cuestión. En estos casos deben identificarse y descartarse las que no lleguen a cumplir el criterio deseado de relevancia.

2.3 El vino y los medios sociales

Este Trabajo Fin de Máster pretende aterrizar puntualmente sobre la industria del vino. Por lo tanto, es importante hablar sobre el lugar que ocupa esta industria en el mundo de los medios sociales y en términos de posicionamiento web. La búsqueda de la palabra “vino” en Google genera 365 millones de resultados y “wine” 1.080 millones. Tan solo en Instagram, existen casi 7 millones de publicaciones con el Hashtag #vino y 36 millones con el Hashtag #wine.

El informe anual “State of Wine Industry 2018” expone en su predicción y observaciones sobre la demanda de la industria 3 puntos importantes (McMillan, 2018):

1. Se seguirá una tendencia hacia los productos “premium”, pero en menor medida para las bodegas sin marcas fuertemente posicionadas. Las marcas establecidas siguen indicando tendencias de crecimiento positivas.
2. Continuará una tendencia a que la generación de “Millennials” se aleje de los vinos tintos y los vinos de introducción, tornándose hacia las categorías de vinos espumosos de bajo coste.
3. La generación “X” superará a la generación de baby boomers para 2021, convirtiéndose en el mayor grupo demográfico consumidor de vino, principalmente en el mercado americano, siendo sustituida posteriormente por la generación de Millennials en 2026.

El informe “State of Wine Industry 2018” también hace un llamamiento a las empresas a redefinir sus estrategias. Busca que las empresas se adapten al nuevo mercado, a clientes que son activos en internet para consultar información, conocer más sobre las diferentes marcas y tener una presencia más activa en redes de la industria, buscando una renovación en la forma en que estas empresas se comunican, alineándose al nuevo perfil que tienen los clientes que demandan los productos.

Como en cualquier industria, en la del vino el objetivo principal es generar ventas. Según una encuesta presentada en el foro de marketing del vino en 2012, 80% de las bodegas españolas tienen una presencia en medios sociales y el resto no la tienen por falta de dedicación, nunca por falta de interés (Serrano Cobos & Fernández Aquino). El mismo foro expuso que el 47% de las bodegas en el mercado americano aseguran que su presencia en medios sociales les ha resultado en un incremento notable en ventas. Sin embargo, existen empresas que creen que la presencia en medios sociales está directamente relacionada con tener una tienda en internet, pero esto no tiene por qué ser así; existen usuarios con diferentes intenciones de compra y que no necesariamente buscan comprar en línea.

Hoy existen diferentes maneras por las cuales la industria del vino se beneficia del buen manejo de medios sociales:

- Impresión o aparición de marca. El reconocimiento de marca en cualquier industria es importante. Los medios sociales apoyan a las industrias a relacionar marcas con una percepción de calidad o afinidad a ciertos temas. Al compartir la cantidad de publicaciones suficientes y balanceadas (70% información 20% promoción) en medios sociales, las diferentes marcas pueden desencadenar un impulso de compra en los usuarios por la correcta aparición de marca (Wine Industry Advisor, 2017).
- Involucrar clientes. El uso de imágenes en medios sociales ayuda a las marcas a crear una mayor interacción visual con sus clientes. Pueden etiquetar personas, bodegas, u otras empresas para difundir un mensaje y así desencadenar una interacción entre diferentes usuarios para poder tener una “conversación” con clientes potenciales (Wine Industry Advisor, 2017). Dicha conversación ayuda a tener una mejor y más pronta comunicación y retroalimentación sobre los temas en cuestión.

- Ampliar mensaje. La naturaleza de los medios sociales permite que las empresas guíen al usuario a llevar a cabo una acción; enviar un mensaje, llevarlo a una tienda online, leer un artículo en un Blog, etc. Asimismo, las herramientas de comentarios, “me gusta”, o de compartir, ayudan a que el mensaje llegue a una mayor audiencia. El correcto uso de medios sociales para ampliar mensajes ayudará a que audiencias puedan acceder a contenido que quizás no hubieran llegado de otra manera.
- Relaciones públicas. Como lo mencionamos anteriormente, los Influencers son el canal para obtener más seguidores y clientes potenciales. Igualmente, estos pueden convertirse en embajadores de la marca, desarrollando nuevos canales de comunicación y si el modelo de negocio lo permite, de venta.

Justamente en la industria del vino existe un gran número de expertos, personas que pasan años estudiando enología, críticos reconocidos en todo el mundo y empresas de todos los tamaños dedicados a la creación de esta bebida. Sin embargo, falta un perfil que divulgue la información y llegue a todos los rincones con opiniones y datos útiles para los consumidores, perfil al que pueden ajustarse sin problema los Influencers.

3. Metodología

Esta metodología pretende detallar todos los pasos necesarios para cumplir los objetivos planteados para este Trabajo Fin de Máster. Se detalla cada proceso de obtención de información, así como el detalle de las plataformas de donde se obtuvieron, siempre haciendo mención de la utilidad de los datos a obtener y el porqué del proceso elegido. Asimismo, en los casos en los que se requirió algún tipo de conexión especial se mencionan las credenciales utilizadas y su método de obtención.

La metodología cubre los pasos desde la recolección de los datos, su transformación y estructura dentro de una base de datos y la realización de un informe visual e interactivo para facilitar la representación y visualización de resultados. De igual manera, se redactan las razones por las cuales se eligieron las plataformas correspondientes a cada uno de los pasos.

Esta metodología se redacta en el mismo orden en el que fue realizado el trabajo con el fin de explicar al lector, de la mejor manera, el proceso efectuado. De tal manera que si el lector deseara repetir este proceso, pueda contar con el detalle de la realización, áreas de oportunidad, reflexiones durante el proyecto y posibles alternativas.

De manera general, la metodología de este TFM ha supuesto los siguientes pasos:

1. Extracción de palabras clave del motor de búsqueda
2. Selección y extracción de etiquetas o Hashtags
3. Selección de Influencers del sector vitivinícola
4. Clasificación de etiquetas en familias
5. Obtención y organización de tweets
6. Integración de datos y diseño de una base de datos
7. Generación de medidas para el análisis de información
8. Diseño de cuadros de mando para futuro análisis

3.1 Selección de palabras clave

Como hemos mencionado anteriormente, Google es el motor de búsqueda más utilizado en la web. Uno de los servicios más populares entre empresas es AdWords, que se utiliza para hacer campañas de publicidad patrocinadas. Cuenta con una variedad de servicios como anuncios en búsquedas, de display, vídeo o en aplicaciones. AdWords permite a sus clientes crear publicidad que llegue directamente a sus consumidores potenciales (Google Ads, 2018). Una de las herramientas principales dentro de AdWords es el “Keyword Planner” o “Planificador de palabras clave”, el cual permite a las empresas descubrir palabras clave relativas a sus negocios para poder diseñar campañas de publicidad alineadas a su negocio y a los intereses de los clientes (Google Ads, 2018).

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

Figura 3. Bienvenida a AdWords (Google Ads, 2018)

Crear una cuenta en AdWords es bastante simple, solo es necesario contar con una cuenta de correo de Gmail (servicio de correo electrónico de Google) y el enlace a la página web a la cual se vincula la cuenta de AdWords, tal como muestra la figura 3. A pesar de que AdWords cuenta con una interfaz de programación de aplicación, API, para desarrolladores esta requiere de la aprobación previa de Google para su uso. Los requisitos para el acceso superan los alcanzados por este TFM, por lo que no fue posible acceder a las palabras clave mediante esta API. Sin embargo, el planificador de palabras clave permite realizar búsquedas y exportar los resultados en formato CSV (valores separados por coma) para su integración posterior.

Para obtener los resultados de palabras clave se deben especificar diferentes criterios para la búsqueda:

- Rango de fechas. Estas pueden ser personalizadas o seleccionar el último mes, últimos 12 o 24 meses.
- Ubicación de las búsquedas. Estas pueden ser desde lo más general, mundialmente, una mezcla de varios países o hasta a una ciudad en concreto. Cada ubicación da un alcance estimado de la cantidad de personas que están en esa ubicación, basado en el número de usuarios que acceden a su cuenta mientras utilizan servicios de Google (Google Ads, 2018).
- Idioma. Se seleccionan entre la lista completa de idiomas que maneja Google.
- Redes de búsqueda. Esta puede ser Google solamente o Google y sus socios.

Para este estudio se eligieron los siguientes escenarios para su análisis:

- Valencia, España + últimos 24 meses + inglés + Google y Socios
- España + últimos 24 meses + inglés + Google y Socios
- Todas las ubicaciones + últimos 24 meses + inglés + Google y Socios
- Valencia, España + últimos 24 meses + español + Google y Socios
- España + últimos 24 meses + español + Google y Socios
- Todas las ubicaciones + últimos 24 meses + español + Google y Socios

Según el idioma del escenario, se partió de la siguiente lista de palabras para la obtención de resultados.

Palabras en español:

vino, comprar vino, comprar vino online, vino tinto, vino blanco, enología, vino español, vino de España, vino de, vino rosado, vino online, vinos, vins, venta de vinos, vino app, aplicación de vino, vino por internet, expertos vino, Influencers de vino, vinos baratos, vino para regalar, viñedos, bodegas, bodegas de vino, enoturismo, vinos especiales, cata de vinos, conocer vinos, aprender de vinos, tienda de vinos

Palabras en inglés:

wine, buy wine, buy wine online, red wine, white wine, enology, spanish wine, wine from spain, wine from, rose wine, wine online, wines, sell wine online, sell wine, wine app, wine on the internet, wine experts, wine, influencers, cheap wine, gift wine, vineyards, wine cellar, wine tourism, new wines, learn about wines, wine store, special wines, wine tasting, order wine.

Por cada palabra clave resultante, la herramienta brinda diversos datos para su análisis. Los siguientes fueron los conservados para su estudio en esta investigación:

- Promedio de búsquedas mensuales en el rango seleccionado
- Promedio de búsquedas mensuales en cada mes del rango seleccionado
- Competencia de la ubicación del anuncio. El nivel bajo, medio o alto determina la competencia con relación a la cantidad de anunciantes que utilizan esta palabra.

Cabe mencionar que el planificador de palabras clave de AdWords en Google brinda al usuario algunos datos relevantes sobre el detalle de la distribución geográfica o búsquedas por tipo de plataforma. Estos datos, relativos a esta investigación, pueden ser consultados en el anexo 1.

Una vez recopilados todos los ficheros CSV generados por la búsqueda de palabras clave en el planificador, estos fueron integrados por idiomas para manejar solo 2 archivos de texto para facilitar su manejo posterior. Dicha integración se efectuó mediante el comando `copy *.csv (nombre).txt` en la ventana de comandos o “símbolo de sistema” de Windows.

Tras una depuración de palabras clave sin búsqueda o irrelevantes para el estudio resultaron un total de 7.715 palabras clave en inglés y 4.481 palabras clave en español, estos fueron integrados en la base de datos para la realización de este TFM, como se explicará y detallará más adelante. La lista completa de palabras clave utilizadas está disponible en el anexo 2.

3.2 Selección de Hashtags

Como hemos mencionado anteriormente los Hashtags o etiquetas juegan una parte importante en la organización de información dentro de los medios sociales; asimismo, ayudan a los usuarios a realizar búsquedas dentro de ellas para encontrar contenido relacionado. Con el objetivo de contrastar las búsquedas que se realizan con palabras clave en los motores de búsqueda con los Hashtags de medios sociales, se hizo una selección de Hashtags relacionados con el sector del vino, provenientes de la red social Instagram.

Instagram es uno de los medios sociales más populares y más utilizados. Ha tenido un crecimiento acelerado de usuarios hasta llegar a los 800 millones de usuarios activos en la actualidad (Instagram, 2018). Los usuarios en Instagram hacen un uso recurrente de Hashtags para clasificar su contenido. Recientemente, esta red social ha hecho posible que los usuarios ya no solo sigan a otros usuarios, sino que puedan seguir un Hashtag en concreto recibiendo todo el contenido que se genera con él.

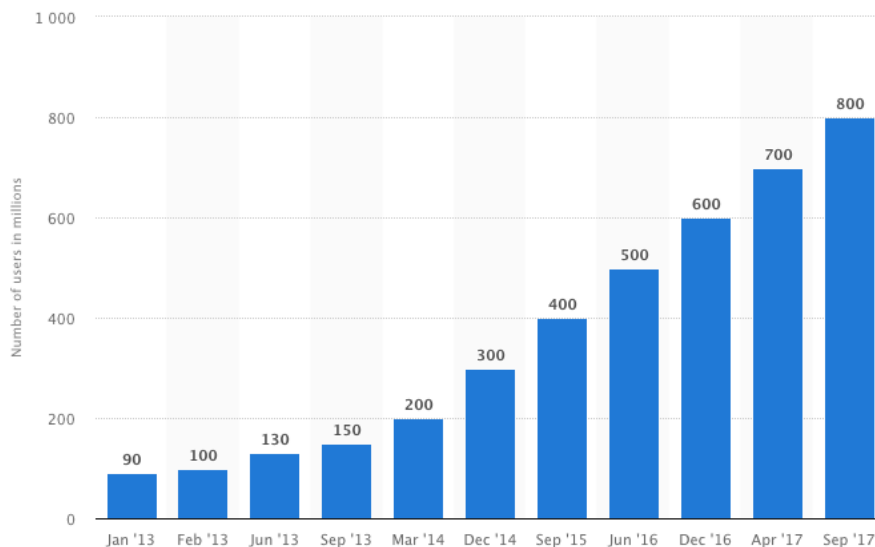

Figura 4. Millones de usuarios en Instagram (Instagram, 2018)

Como se ha mencionado antes, Instagram cuenta con un API para desarrolladores para la generación de aplicaciones con una conexión directa a Instagram. Para poder conectarse al API de este medio social, es necesario tener una cuenta el mismo, un correo electrónico y una página web que respalde la aplicación, seguido de una breve descripción de para que se pretende usar dicha aplicación. El registro para este TFM se realizó con la información que se muestra en la figura 5. Una vez registrada la aplicación, se genera un identificador denominado “Client ID” y otro secreto llamado “Client Secret”, los cuales serán utilizados en la conexión con la API.

The screenshot shows the 'Manage Client' interface for 'ThesisMUGI'. At the top, there are navigation links for 'Instagram', 'Sandbox Invites', 'Manage Clients', and 'verolari'. The main heading is 'Manage Client: ThesisMUGI'. Below this, client details are listed: Client ID (83f47c1289904576af3b7d9bd7859262), Client Secret (e712fc19b8654351ae0c49577cdbff00) with a 'RESET SECRET' button, and Client Status (Sandbox Mode). A tabbed interface shows 'Details' selected, with other tabs for 'Security', 'Sandbox', 'Permissions', and 'Migrations'. The 'Application Name' field contains 'ThesisMUGI'. A note below states: 'Do not use Instagram, IG, insta or gram in your app name. Make sure to adhere to the API Terms of Use and Brand Guidelines.' The 'Description' field contains: 'I am willing to use some posts data in order to analyze such data and develop an analytical analysis.' Other fields include 'Company Name' (Polytecnic University of Valencia), 'Website URL' (http://www.upv.es), 'Privacy Policy URL' (empty), and 'Contact email' (vegarzen@upv.es). A note below the email field says: 'An email that Instagram can use to get in touch with you. Please specify a valid email address to be notified of important information about your app.' At the bottom, there are 'Update Client' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Figura 5. Registro de cliente en Instagram (Instagram, 2018)

Uno de los principales objetivos de la conexión a la API de Instagram era poder obtener descripciones de publicaciones de otros usuarios; lamentablemente la misma plataforma ha limitado el acceso por API al contenido, como se muestra en el anexo 3. Dada esta limitación, se rediseñó el proceso de recolección de datos para este estudio y se tomó la decisión de tomar los Hashtags de esta plataforma, a los cuales la API tiene completo acceso.

La conexión con la API de Instagram se puede realizar desde cualquier navegador haciendo un llamado mediante la construcción de una URL (localizador de recursos uniforme) y el “endpoint” deseado para obtener los datos. La utilizada fue la siguiente: `https://api.instagram.com/v1/tags/search?q=[HASHTAG]&access_token=21320867.83f47c1.8b657c0c9dcc40828ec4f409ec1ba513`

Esta está construida por 4 partes:

1. URL directa a la API de la plataforma: `https://api.instagram.com/`
2. Endpoint con la solicitud del dato puntual: `tags/search?q=[HASHTAG]`
Donde “[Hashtag]” se sustituye por la etiqueta a partir de la cual se parte para obtener información.
3. Access Token, que es la llave de acceso única por aplicación que da permisos para obtener datos:
`access_token=21320867.83f47c1.8b657c0c9dcc40828ec4f409ec1ba513`

Al introducir una etiqueta en una llamada a la API, ésta genera una lista de datos en formato CSV de Hashtags relacionados a la búsqueda y su número de apariciones totales en la aplicación. A continuación, se enlistan los Hashtags en español y en inglés desde los cuales se partió para obtener los resultados.

Hashtags en español:

catadevinos, comprarvino, comprarvinoonline, vino, vino blanco, vinode, vinoespañol, vinorosado, vinos, vinotinto.

Hashtags en inglés:

buywine, redwine, rosewine, spanishwine, whitewine, wine, wines, winelover, winesfrom, winetasting, winefromspain, winery.

Tras una depuración de Hashtags que no aportan ningún beneficio al estudio o eran irrelevantes, resultaron un total de 399 en inglés y 430 en español. Los Hashtags se integraron en la base de datos para la realización de este TFM, como se explica más adelante. La lista completa de Hashtags está disponible en el anexo 4.

3.3 Selección de Influencers

Social Vignerons es una comunidad de información sobre el sector del vino con miles de seguidores en sus medios sociales y directamente en su página web<sup>2</sup>. Dentro del contenido que crean en la web están entrevistas, reseñas, datos curiosos y estudios del mismo sector. Cada año hacen un ranking sobre los Influencers del vino, basado en el índice Klout, con el objetivo de informar a la comunidad de los usuarios en medios sociales más influyentes sobre los consumidores.

Para la realización de este Trabajo Fin de Máster, se utilizó el ranking publicado en 2017 por Social Vignerons. El ranking muestra una lista de usuarios en medios sociales con un índice Klout mayor a 63 puntos, denominándose entonces Influencers (Miquel, 2018). Una vez con la lista estructurada y actualizada, fue necesaria hacer una depuración de usuarios que no fueran relevantes para este análisis, como los que no contaran con una cuenta de Instagram y de Twitter.

La lista completa de Influencers se muestra en la tabla 1. Cada uno de estos Influencers tiene una página web y se encuentra activo en los medios sociales Instagram y Twitter. Se usaron un total de 37 Influencers para su análisis en este TFM.

3.4 Clasificación de Hashtags

Como se mencionó anteriormente, se obtuvieron un total de 399 Hashtags en inglés y 430 en español. Sin embargo, en el tratamiento de los datos fueron eliminados aquellos con menos de 10 apariciones, dada su poca relevancia. Una vez eliminados estos, los totales son 348 Hashtags en inglés y 288 en español. A pesar de ser un número relativamente bajo se creó la columna “Familia Hashtag”, que tiene el objetivo de agrupar Hashtags similares para hacer su tratamiento y manejo más eficaz.

La clasificación se creó en base a la raíz de la etiqueta; por ejemplo, si la etiqueta es “vinotintosiempre” entonces entrará en la clasificación “Vinotinto”. Después de crear las clasificaciones o familias para todas las etiquetas en ambos idiomas, resultaron 138 familias; 52 en inglés y 84 en español. Entre las más populares en inglés están: winefrom, redwine, whitewine, winelover, spanishwine, rosewine y buywine. Entre las más populares en español están: vinode, vinotinto, vinoblanco, vinoespañol y vino.

Sin embargo, existen muchas etiquetas que son únicas y no pueden ser categorizadas en una familia, por lo que la familia a la que pertenecen lleva el mismo nombre que la propia etiqueta. Este es el caso de etiquetas como vinoteca, catadevinos, winetasting o winery. Son un total de 101 familias con etiqueta única y su importancia de conservarlas de esa manera recae en que tienen un alto número de apariciones, incluso más que otras familias compuestas por más de una etiqueta. En el anexo 5 se puede consultar la lista completa de familias de Hashtags por idioma.

Para el análisis de texto generado por los Influencers seleccionados se tomó la decisión de analizar sus publicaciones en Twitter. Para ello fue necesario crear una conexión a la API de Twitter para la extracción de los datos. Los requisitos son tener una cuenta activa de Twitter y crear una aplicación en la sección de desarrolladores de su página web. Esta aplicación fue creada especialmente para la realización de este TFM, y tiene las características que se muestran en la figura 6.

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

PowerBI es una plataforma de Microsoft que tiene un conjunto de herramientas para el análisis de datos empresariales. Esta plataforma permite la conexión con múltiples orígenes de datos para su preparación, estandarización y análisis. Esta permite generar informes con visualizaciones interactivas, para su distribución dentro y fuera de la compañía<sup>3</sup>. PowerBI puede utilizarse con su versión de escritorio, descargable y completamente gratuita, y su versión web, también gratuita. El límite de almacenamiento que permite la versión gratuita de PowerBI son 10GB; si se requiere más almacenamiento o una memoria de respuesta más rápida la licencia mensual cuesta 12€. La licencia de PowerBI también incluye otras funcionalidades como compartir informes con otros usuarios y filtros de visibilidad entre usuarios.

Uno de los orígenes de datos con los que puede conectarse PowerBI es la API de Twitter, y para poder conectarse es necesario hacerlo en la versión de escritorio "PowerBI Desktop". PowerBI cuenta con la herramienta Power Query para realizar consultas a los orígenes de datos. Como se muestra en la figura 8, dentro del editor de consultas siguiendo la ruta Nuevo-Origen→ Más→ Otras→ Consulta-en-blanco se abre una ventana para escribir la conexión deseada en el lenguaje SQL.

Twitter permite obtener como máximo 100 líneas por consulta, así que este fue el número de tweets que se obtuvieron por cada consulta. Para cada Influencer se obtuvieron sus últimos 100 tweets hasta el 20 de mayo y los últimos 100 tweets hasta el 27 de mayo, haciendo un total de hasta 200 tweets por cada uno de los Influencers para este análisis. A continuación, se muestra el código utilizado para extraer los tweets para cada uno de los usuarios.

El código comienza en las líneas 1 y 2 uniendo el “consumer key” y “customer secret” para la autenticación en la API. A partir de la línea 4, utiliza el método POST oauth2 / token de Twitter para obtener un token de portador, y en la línea 11 obtiene el token. En la línea 13 usa el método de búsqueda de tweets (GET) utilizando el token de portador de los pasos anteriores. En esta línea se debe introducir después de “screen_name=”, el usuario del cual queremos obtener los tweets. El resto de las líneas extraen los valores y definen las líneas.

La figura 9 muestra el ejemplo del código utilizado para el Influencer WineSpectator. Cabe recalcar que la consulta fue realizada con cada uno de los 37 Influencers para obtener sus últimos 100 tweets hasta el 20 de mayo y los últimos 100 tweets hasta el 27 de mayo.

Figura 9. Consulta para extraer Tweets

Una vez se han hecho las consultas para todos los Influencers, fue necesario integrarlas en una sola tabla para su análisis. Asimismo, esta integración requiere expandir todas las columnas para analizar todos los datos que se obtuvieron de los tweets y poder hacer una selección de la información más relevante. A continuación, se muestra el código utilizado para integrar todas las consultas y la expansión de columnas.

Finalmente, se obtuvieron un total de 5.500 líneas o tweets de los 37 Influencers, donde no todas las columnas expandidas fueron utilizadas. La lista completa de tweets puede consultarse en el anexo 6. Más adelante cuando se hable del diseño de la base de datos, se detalla cuáles fueron las columnas utilizadas de estos tweets para cada una de las tablas, así como el formato en el que fueron adaptados para su mejor manejo en el análisis.

3.6 Diseño de la base de datos

Para este punto se han recolectado todos los datos necesarios para el estudio y para ello es necesario estructurarlos en tablas y relacionarlos entre sí. El editor de queries con el que funciona PowerBI, Power Query, permite organizar la información en diferentes tablas y editar el formato de cada variable. Una vez organizadas las tablas, PowerBI Desktop cuenta con una vista denominada “relaciones” en donde se especifican justamente las relaciones entre las tablas y las características de estas relaciones.

Se generaron 10 tablas que de manera general corresponden a 4 tipos; búsquedas, Hashtags, Usuarios y Tweets. Las tablas son las siguientes:

- Búsquedas:
  - Búsquedas inglés: proviene de la extracción del planificador de palabras clave de Google y contiene las palabras clave en inglés y sus búsquedas mensuales promedio.
- Hashtags:
  - Hashtags Populares: contiene los Hashtags extraídos de Instagram, su idioma y su número de apariciones totales.
  - Hashtags TW: contiene los Hashtags utilizados en los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
- Usuarios:
  - Influencers: contiene la lista de los 37 Influencers analizados con los datos de sus diferentes medios sociales y su índice Klout.
  - Menciones: usuarios mencionados en los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
  - Contestados: usuarios a los que se les contestaron en los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
  - Citados: usuarios que fueron citados en los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
  - Retweets: usuarios a los que les hicieron “retweet” en los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
  - Usuarios: usuarios autores de los 5.500 tweets extraídos.
- Tweets:
  - Muestra tweets: contiene la información a analizar de los 5.500 tweets extraídos (ID, texto, autor, idioma, total de retweets, total de favoritos, y fecha de creación).

3.7 Modelo de análisis y creación de medidas

PowerBI utiliza dos lenguajes para la creación de medidas y columnas en las diferentes tablas de un modelo: M y DAX. M es el lenguaje de Power Query, y está diseñado para realizar consultas de fusión de datos flexibles. Es un lenguaje funcional similar a F # (Microsoft, 2018). Por otro lado, existe DAX por sus siglas en inglés Data Analysis Expression, que es una librería de funciones y operaciones combinables para la creación de fórmulas y expresiones en diferentes plataformas de Microsoft como son Microsoft SQL Server Analysis Services, Power Pivot en Excel y Power BI Desktop (Microsoft, 2018). En PowerBI se utilizan ambos lenguajes. Sin embargo, M suele utilizarse para generar columnas directamente en el query de las tablas del modelo y DAX para crear diferentes medidas a partir de las variables en 1 o más tablas.

Para optimizar el análisis de los datos extraídos para este TFM, se han realizado una serie de medidas con diferentes objetivos. La siguiente tabla muestra las diferentes medidas creadas y agregadas al modelo mencionando su lenguaje, ubicación dentro de las tablas y objetivo.

3.7.1 Diseño del nuevo indicador de influencia

Con el objetivo de diseñar un indicador general que valide la influencia de los usuarios determinados como Influencers, se generó un ponderado que toma en cuenta diferentes medidas relacionadas con la actividad de estos usuarios en medios sociales. A continuación, se explica el detalle de cómo fueron calculadas estas medidas. Asimismo, estas medidas se encuentran en la tabla anterior con el detalle del lenguaje en que fueron creadas.

Medidas referentes a los favoritos de un usuario

Con el total de tweets se debe identificar el usuario autor con el mayor número de favoritos. Al ser los resultados dinámicos y filtrables bajo diferentes criterios, es necesario calcularlo en una fórmula y no solo señalarlo literalmente. La fórmula para calcular este máximo, identificado como "max favoritos", es la siguiente:

=CALCULATE (IF(countrows(values('Muestra Tweets'[Autor])) = 1, [Total Favoritos], MAXX(values('Muestra Tweets'[Autor]), [Total Favoritos])), ALL('Muestra Tweets'))

Después de calcular el máximo valor de entre los usuarios se debe asignar un valor entre 0 y 1 a cada Influencer sobre su total de favoritos con respecto al máximo. Esta medida, identificada como "score favoritos", se calcula de la siguiente manera:

=DIVIDE([Total Favoritos], [max favoritos])

Medidas referentes a los seguidores en Twitter de un usuario

Un proceso similar se sigue con los seguidores en Twitter de cada usuario. Se debe identificar el usuario con el mayor número de seguidores en la plataforma. La fórmula para calcular este máximo, identificado como "max followers tw user", es la siguiente:

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

=CALCULATE (IF (countrows (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor])) = 1, [followers twitter total], MAXX (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor]), [followers twitter total])), ALL ('Muestra Tweets'))

Después de calcular el máximo valor de entre los usuarios se debe asignar un valor entre 0 y 1 a cada Influencer sobre el total de sus seguidores con respecto al que más tiene. Esta medida, identificada como “score followers tw”, se calcula de la siguiente manera:

=DIVIDE ([followers twitter total], [max followers tw user])

Medidas referentes a los retweets de un usuario

El proceso de cálculo del total de retweets por usuario es el mismo que los 2 pasos anteriores. La fórmula para calcular el mayor número de retweets de entre los usuarios, “max retweets user”, es la siguiente:

=CALCULATE (IF (countrows (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor])) = 1, [Total RT], MAXX (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor]), [Total RT])), ALL ('Muestra Tweets'))

Y para calcular el valor de cada usuario sobre el total, “score retweets” es:

=DIVIDE ([Total RT], [max retweets user])

Medidas referentes a la intersección de etiquetas y búsquedas

La intersección entre búsquedas y etiquetas es muy importante para el cumplimiento de los objetivos de este TFM. Es por eso por lo que también se realizaron medidas y cálculos referentes a esta intersección para validar el nivel de influencia de los Influencers. Primeramente, es necesario identificar si los usuarios hacen uso de por lo menos uno de los valores dentro de esta intersección, para lo que se creó la medida “Score uso HST búsqueda”, con la siguiente fórmula:

=IF ([Count Hashtag Populaes Used] < 1, 0, 1)

Si el usuario hace uso de por lo menos 1 de los valores, se le asignaba 1 como valor, de lo contrario un 0. Posteriormente, para los usuarios con un valor 1 en la medida anterior, fue necesario calcular una medida que asigna un valor de entre 0 y 1, que representara el total de intersecciones únicas que usó cada usuario, sobre el total del usuario que más usó. Para ello fueron necesarias las siguientes 2 fórmulas: “max Hashtags populares” y “score Hashtags populares”

=CALCULATE (IF (countrows (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor])) = 1, [Count Hashtag Populaes Used], MAXX (values ('Muestra Tweets' [Autor]) [Count Hashtag Populaes Used])), ALL ('Muestra Tweets'))

=DIVIDE([Count Hashtag Populaes Used],[max Hashtags populares])

Medidas referentes al total de tweets por usuario

En el caso del total de tweets, el máximo de tweets extraídos por usuario son 200 tweets, por lo que no es necesario calcular el usuario con el mayor número de tweets. Sin embargo, sí que es necesario calcular el total de cada Influencer con respecto al máximo, ya que no todos llegaron a cumplir el total durante la extracción. El cálculo de esta medida, identificada como “score Tweets únicos”, se calcula de la siguiente manera:

=DIVIDE('Muestra Tweets'[Tweets únicos],200)

Ponderado General

Con el fin de crear un nuevo indicador que tome en cuenta todas las medidas anteriores, se ha generado un ponderado general que tome en cuenta cada una de ellas. Sin embargo, como se argumenta en este trabajo, la intersección de búsquedas y usuarios tiene un peso importante y por ello en el ponderado se le da un valor mayor al resto de valores. La fórmula utilizada para calcular el ponderado, denominado “score influencia”, es la siguiente:

=((([Score Favoritos]*0.15)+([score retweets]*0.15)+([Score Tweets únicos]*0.10)+([Score Hashtags populares]*0.20)+([Score uso HST busqueda]*0.20)+([score followers tw]*0.10))*100
```

La fórmula anterior asigna un valor de entre 1 y 100 a los usuarios influyentes. Cuanto más alto sea el valor, más influyente es el usuario. Asimismo, se generó un ranking con todos los usuarios asignando su posición de tal manera que el “score influencia” más alto estará en la primera posición y así consecutivamente. La fórmula de este ranking, denominado “posición influencia”, es la siguiente:

=CALCULATE(RANKX ( ALLSELECTED ( Influencers[Influencer] ), CALCULATE('Muestra Tweets'[Score Influencia])))

3.7.2 Correlación de indicadores

Existe un lenguaje de programación, llamado R, utilizado principalmente para análisis estadísticos y minería de datos. Con este lenguaje y la plataforma R Studio se llevaron a cabo diferentes cálculos para determinar la correlación entre las medidas anteriormente mencionadas. Para hacer el análisis se usó una tabla con la lista completa de Influencers y el valor que cada uno tiene en el indicador Klout y las mencionadas en el punto anterior. Esta tabla, se guardó en formato “.csv” para su uso con R Studio mediante las siguientes funciones:

datos <- read.csv("data.csv") datos
str(datos)
summary(datos)

Una vez con los datos cargados, se procedió a hacer diferentes cálculos y procesamientos.

1. Correlación entre los valores de “Posición Klout” y Posición Influencia”

cor(datos$`Posicion Klout`, datos$`Posicion Influencia`)
```

2. Gráfica de correlación entre “Posición Klout” y Posición Influencia” plot(`Posicion Klout`~`Posicion Influencia`,data=datos) abline(lm(`Posicion Klout`~`Posicion Influencia`,data=datos), col="red")

```

3. Correlación entre los valores de Klout y el nuevo indicador de influencia

cor(datos$Klout, datos$Score.Influencia)
```

4. Gráfica de correlación entre el Klout y el nuevo indicador de influencia

plot(Klout~Score.Influencia,data=datos) abline(lm(Klout~Score.Influencia,data=datos), col="red")
```

5. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente el nuevo indicador influencia y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers datosLM1 <- lm(datos$Score.Influencia ~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos` + datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos +

datos$Score.uso.HST.busqueda + datos$Score.Hashtags.populares +
datos$score.followers.tw)

6. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente la posición del nuevo indicador influencia y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers.

datosLM11 <- lm(datos$`Posicion Influencia`~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos`
+ datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos +
datos$Score.uso.HST.busqueda + datos$Score.Hashtags.populares +
datos$score.followers.tw)
```

7. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente el indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers sin considerar las intersecciones entre búsquedas y etiquetas.

datosLM2 <- lm(datos$Klout ~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos` +
datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos +
datos$score.followers.tw)
```

8. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente la posición del indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers sin considerar las intersecciones entre búsquedas y etiquetas.

```
datosLM22 <- lm(datos$`Posicion Klout` ~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos` +
datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos +
datos$score.followers.tw)
```

9. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente el indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers.

datosLM3 <- lm(datos$Klout ~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos` +
datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos + datos$score.followers.tw
+ datos$Score.Hashtags.populares)
```

10. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente la posición del indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers.

```
datosLM33 <- lm(datos$`Posicion Klout` ~ datos$`Score Tweets unicos` +
datos$score.retweets + datos$Score.Favoritos + datos$score.followers.tw
+ datos$Score.Hashtags.populares)

A partir de estos 10 cálculos se compararon los diferentes coeficientes de correlación. Para los casos del cálculo de una regresión lineal, el coeficiente de correlación se obtiene mediante la raíz cuadrada del coeficiente de determinación resultante. En el lenguaje R, dicha raíz se calcula mediante la función `sqrt(x)`.

3.8 Diseño de cuadros de mando

4. Resultados

Son diversos los resultados que se obtienen de la investigación y metodología planteadas para este Trabajo Fin de Máster. El modelo explicado anteriormente permite que al utilizar diferentes fuentes de información se puedan obtener resultados bastante interesantes que toman en cuenta diferentes criterios e incluso escenarios. Como se expuso al principio de este trabajo, se pretende que estos resultados den un apoyo al diseño de una estrategia de Influencer marketing, puntualmente en el sector vitivinícola.

No se descarta ningún resultado ya que por más mínimo e irrelevante que parezca, en alguno de los contextos del sector vitivinícola podría resultar valioso o curioso para la toma de alguna decisión estratégica o para el seguimiento de este estudio y enriquecimiento de la metodología. A continuación, se exponen diferentes resultados, organizados en el mismo orden en el que fueron obtenidos a través de la investigación y metodología realizadas para este trabajo.

4.1 Palabras clave más buscadas

4.1.1 Segmentación por origen

A partir de la medida de búsquedas mensuales promedio que aporta AdWords por medio de su planificador de palabras clave, se pueden analizar las diferentes búsquedas de manera general o filtrando por su origen; que en este caso es Valencia, España o el Mundo.

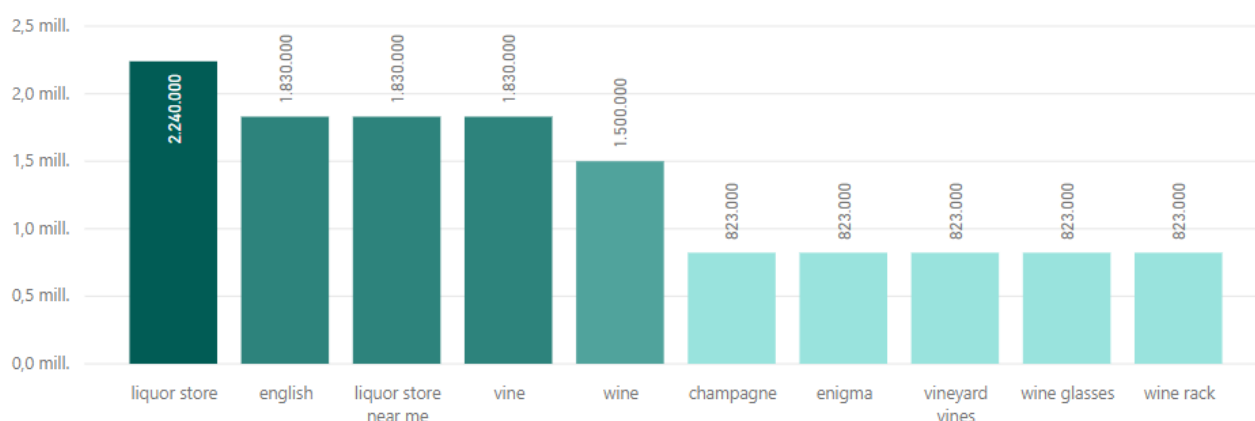

Figura 18. Top 10 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés

La figura 18 muestra las 10 palabras clave más buscadas relacionadas con el sector vitivinícola en el mundo. Las primeras tres posiciones podrían parecer irrelevantes; sin embargo, no se descarta ya que pueden ser de utilidad para el diseño de alguna estrategia puntual relacionada con tiendas de bebidas alcohólicas, por ejemplo. La figura 19 muestra las 10 palabras clave con más búsquedas en España. Aquí podemos ver que, a pesar de ser búsquedas en inglés, determinado por el idioma del navegador, “vino” ocupa la primera posición y “wine” la décima. Este top nos permite identificar dentro del mismo productos sustitutos del vino, marcas y orígenes.

Figura 19. Top 10 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés en España

Finalmente, en la figura 20 se muestran las 10 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés en Valencia. En esta segmentación las palabras clave tienen una posición similar a la de España en general; sin embargo, se pueden encontrar nuevas palabras que nos ayudan a entender la tendencia de compra de esta segmentación. Por ejemplo, “vivino” es una aplicación para compra de vino online con una gran popularidad en esta zona de España. Este resultado puede ser para ciertos competidores para la selección de palabras clave en su estrategia de Influencer marketing.

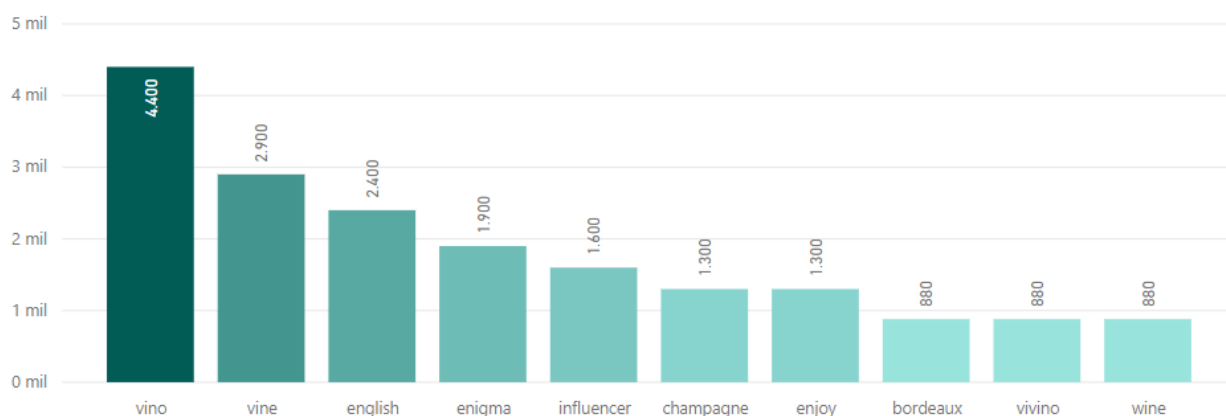

Figura 20. Top 10 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés en Valencia

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

Las figuras 21, 22 y 23 muestran las 25 palabras más buscadas relacionadas con sector vitivinícola en el mundo, España y Valencia respectivamente. Cuando visualizamos estos resultados con este nuevo margen, se puede empezar a identificar las tendencias de búsqueda de los usuarios en este sector. Se pueden encontrar tipos de uva, accesorios para el consumo del vino e incluso palabras clave que nos ayudan a entender el proceso de consumo del vino que tienen los usuarios.

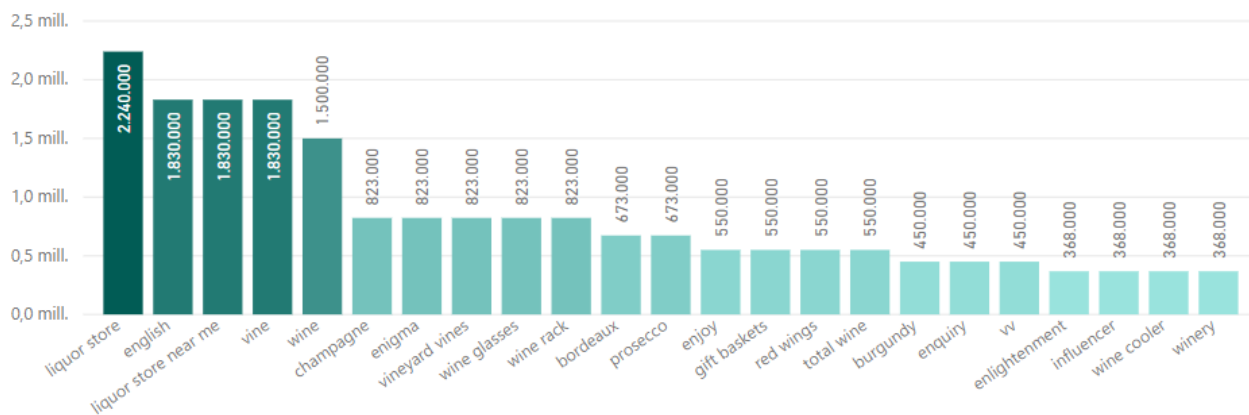

Figura 21. Top 25 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés

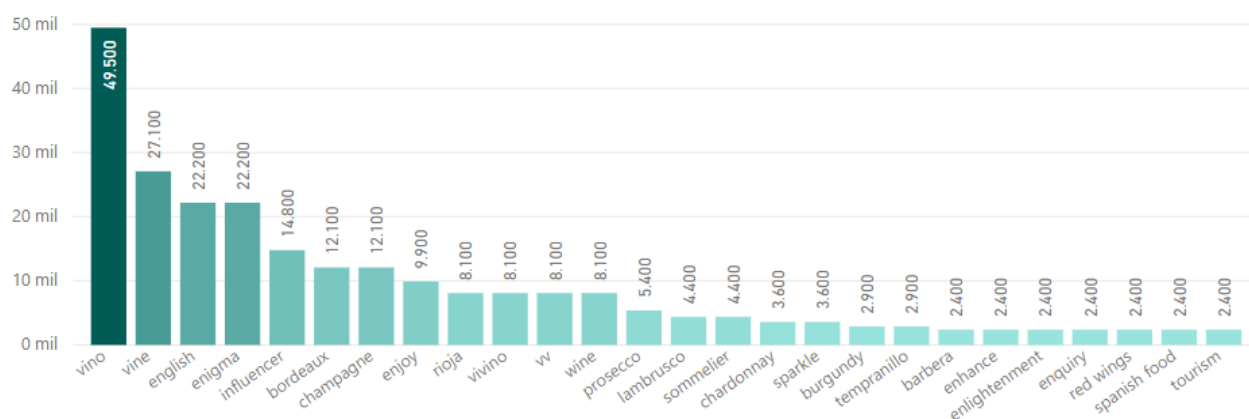

Figura 22. Top 25 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés en España

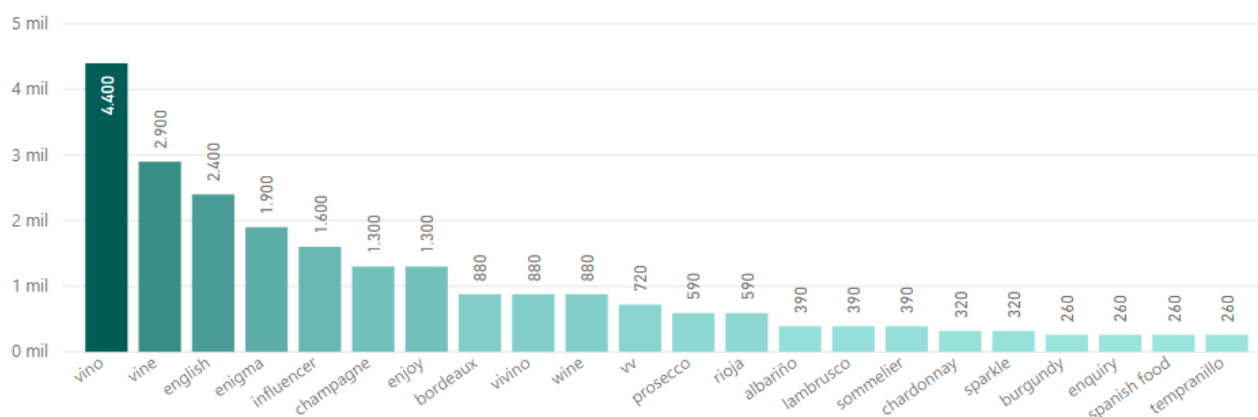

Figura 23. Top 25 palabras clave más buscadas en inglés en Valencia

4.1.2 Segmentación por competitividad

Como se había mencionado anteriormente, el planificador de palabras clave identifica cada una de ellas con un valor de competitividad, identificando como baja, media, alta o desconocida con relación a la cantidad de anunciantes que utilizan esta palabra en sus estrategias. Entendiéndose que entre más alta sea la competitividad, más anunciantes la utilizan en sus estrategias.

La figura 24 muestra el total de búsquedas mundiales con una competitividad alta. Entre las 25 con más búsquedas, la mayoría están relacionadas con accesorios para vinos como copas o neveras. Sin embargo, la figura 25 muestra las 25 palabras clave más buscadas, pero con una competitividad baja. La diferencia es clara, las palabras con una competitividad baja tienen hasta el doble de búsquedas mensuales promedio, lo cual es un gran indicador de oportunidad de uso. Asimismo, las palabras con una competitividad baja suelen ser por tipo de vino.

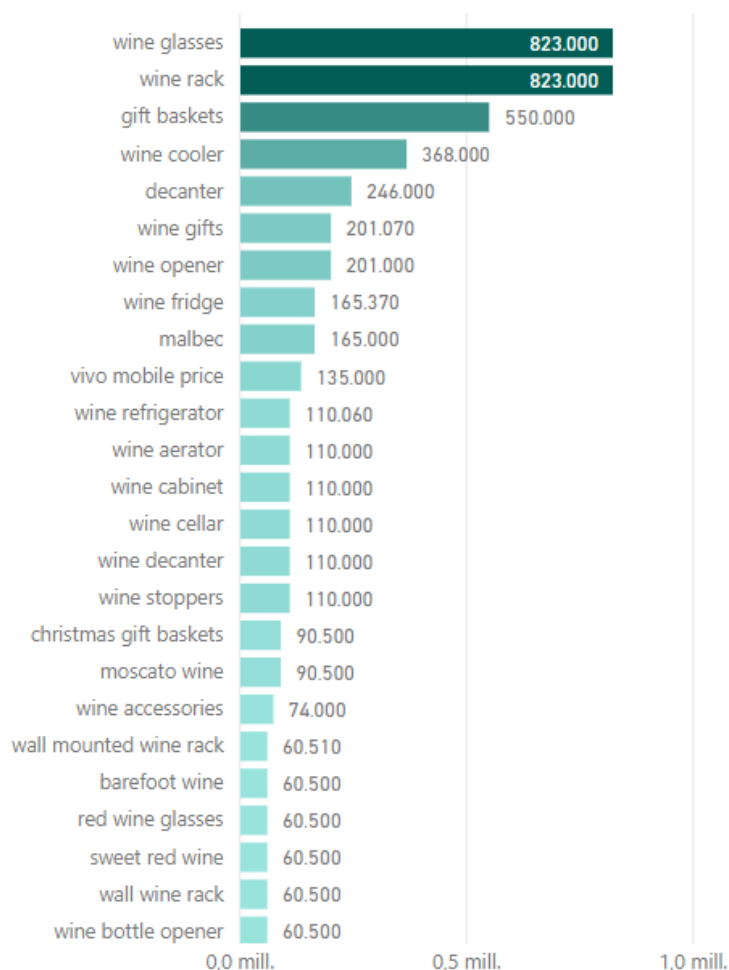

Figura 24 Top 25. palabras clave más buscadas con competitividad alta

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

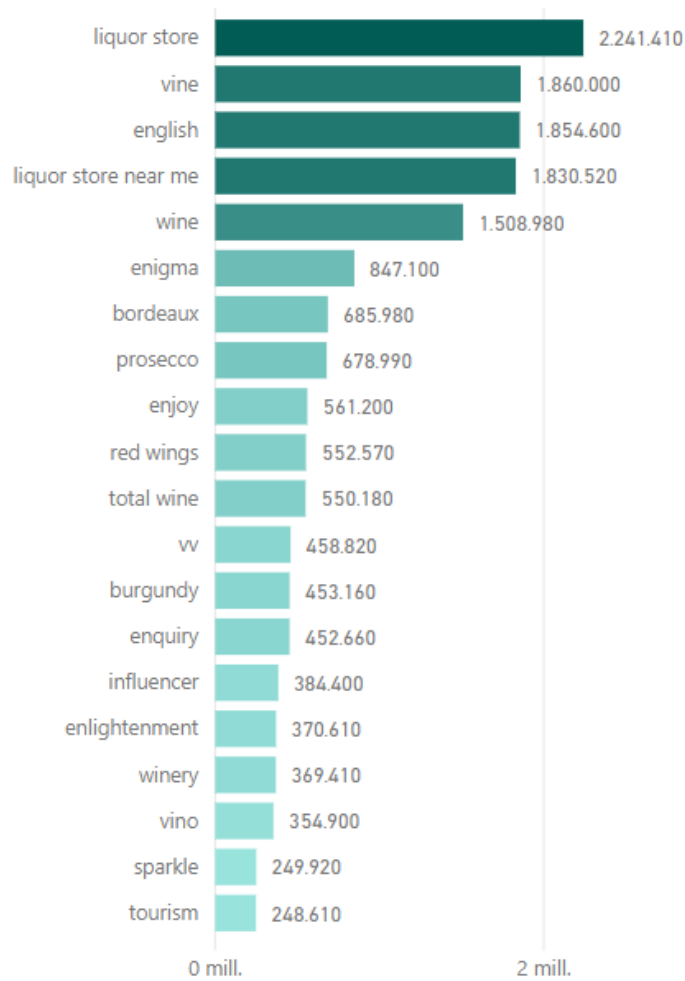

Figura 25. Top 25 palabras clave más buscadas con competitividad baja

Estos resultados puntuales para el sector vitivinícola, pueden ser de gran utilidad ya que permiten tener una idea clara de lo que los usuarios están buscando y como otros anunciantes o competidores están haciendo uso de esta información. Teniendo claro lo que los usuarios buscan y lo que el resto de los anunciantes utilizan, nos permite identificar las áreas de oportunidad existentes y atacables para una estrategia de marketing.

4.2 Hashtags más mencionados

4.2.1 Familia de etiquetas

Figura 26. Top 10 familias de etiquetas con más apariciones en inglés

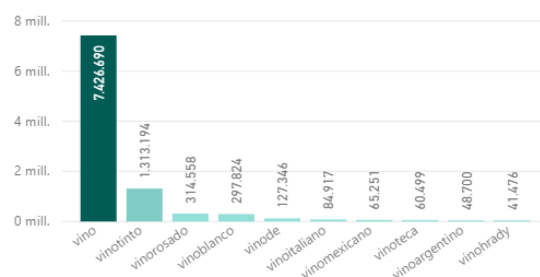

Figura 27. Top 10 familias de etiquetas con más apariciones en español

Las figuras 26 y 27 muestran las 10 familias de etiquetas en inglés y español con más apariciones. Como era de esperarse “vino” y su traducción en inglés “wine” son las que más apariciones tienen. Una familia de etiqueta muy popular en inglés es “winelover”, correspondiente al Hashtag específico bastante utilizado por los usuarios amantes del vino para identificarse a ellos mismos; lo mismo sucede con “winetime” y “wineoclock” como formas creativas de etiquetar y señalar las publicaciones relacionadas con la hora de tomar vino. Por su parte, en el idioma español pareciera que los usuarios fueran más literales al etiquetar sus publicaciones por tipo de vino o su origen.

4.2.2 Hashtags/etiquetas populares

Cuando visualizamos las etiquetas más populares individualmente en inglés, descartando la más popular “wine” con más de 38 millones de apariciones, la siguiente es “redwine” con casi 4 millones y medio. Como se muestra en la figura 28, entre las etiquetas más populares en el idioma inglés, además de “wine”, “redwine” y “winetasting”, destacan “winelover” y su plural “winelovers” entendiéndose que es una etiqueta bastante popular para señalar el contenido o publicaciones relacionadas al sector vitivinícola entre los usuarios de redes sociales.

Figura 28. Top 10 hashtags más populares en inglés

La figura 29 muestra las 25 etiquetas con más apariciones en inglés. Cuando analizamos estos resultados, se pueden identificar diferentes etiquetas que relacionan el consumo del vino con un estilo de vida, como es el caso de “winetime”, “wineoclock”, “winestagram”, “wineporn”, “winewednesday”, “winenight”, “winelife”, “winegeek”, “winelove” o “wineoftheday”. Finalmente se puede nuevamente identificar que en el idioma inglés las etiquetas del contenido web relacionado al vino suelen ser más creativas y se relacionan directamente con el estilo de vida de los usuarios.

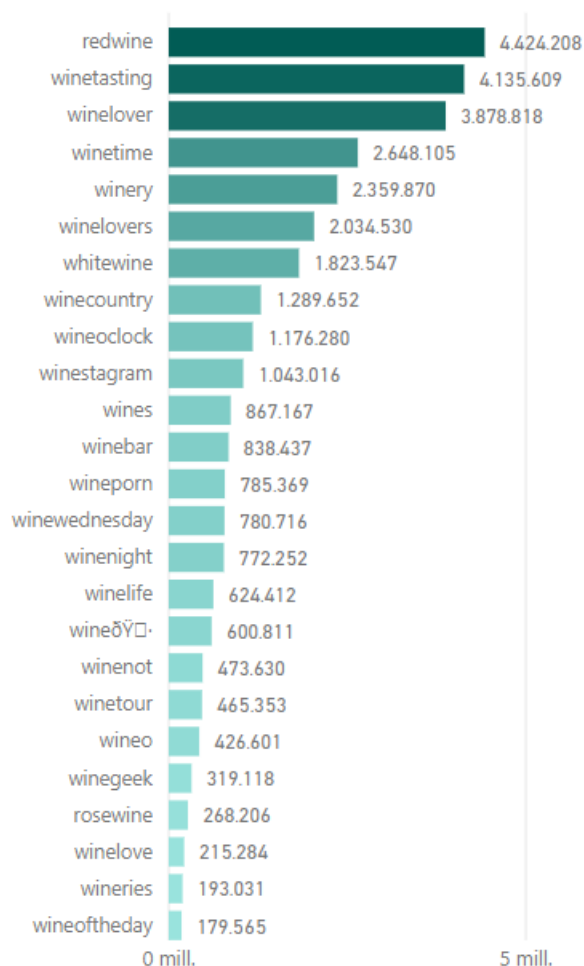

Figura 29. Top 25 Hashtags más populares en inglés

En el caso de las etiquetas en español, descartando la etiqueta vino con casi 7 millones de apariciones, la etiqueta más popular es “vinotinto” con casi 1 millón de apariciones. La figura 30 muestra los 10 Hashtags en español con más apariciones, donde resaltan los relacionados a un tipo de vino como son también “vinorosso”, “vinoblanco” y “vinobianco”, así como los relacionados al país de origen como “vinoitaliano” y “vinomexicano”.

La siguiente figura muestra las 25 posiciones principales por aparición descartando las etiquetas que hicieran alusión a la selección venezolana. Ahora resultan más etiquetas por tipo de vino y país de origen.

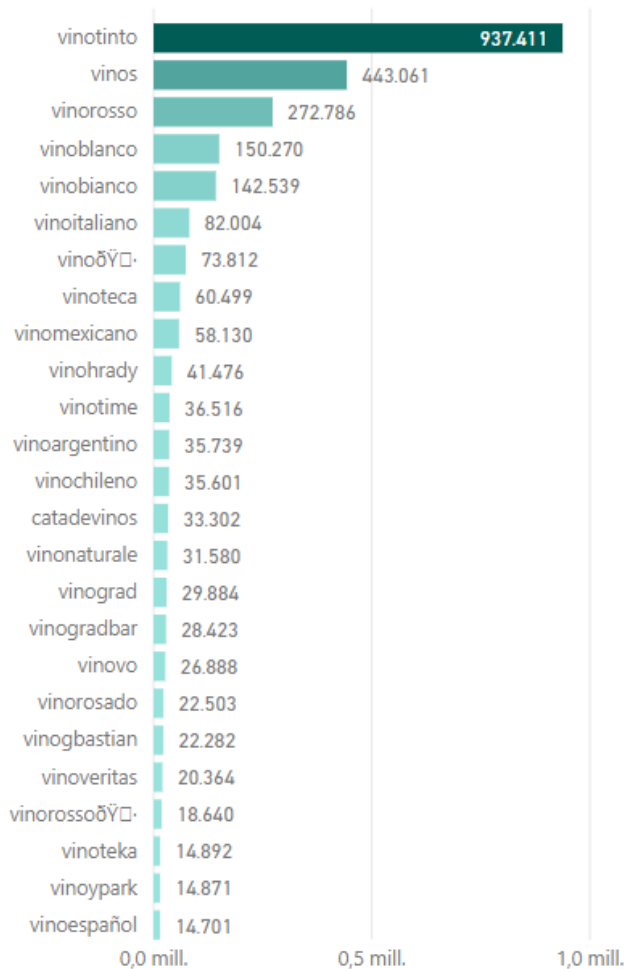

Figura 32. Top 25 Hashtags más populares en español (Sin desviaciones)

Tras analizar las etiquetas en los idiomas inglés y español, se puede notar en los resultados que las etiquetas en el idioma inglés suelen hacer clasificaciones creativas referentes al estilo de vida de los usuarios. Por su parte, en el idioma español las etiquetas son más literales al tipo de vino al que se relaciona la publicación o al país de origen con el que se relaciona el vino en cuestión dentro de la publicación.

4.3 Características de Influencers

Se trabajó con un total de 37 usuarios denominados como Influencers. El primer análisis de estos se hizo basado en el Klout score, identificando a aquellos usuarios con un índice mayor a 63 que cumplieran con las características de Influencers. Al contrastar el indicador Klout de estos usuarios, se encontró que la media de este indicador entre los Influencers seleccionados es de 76, una puntuación alta que denota un gran nivel de influencia entre los usuarios.

La figura 33 muestra el valor del indicador Klout para cada uno de los Influencers identificados. La línea punteada representa el percentil al 70%, lo cual demuestra que el 30% de los Influencers utilizados en la metodología tienen un valor de influencia mayor o igual a 79. El usuario con el Klout más alto es Wine Spectator con 89/100.

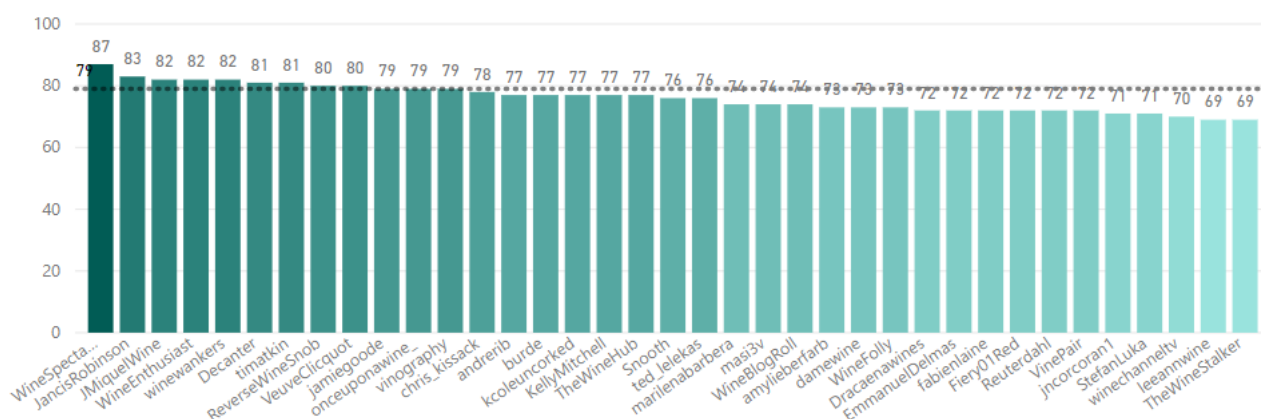

Figura 33. Indicador Klout por Influencer

Al contrastar los Influencers identificados por número total de seguidores en el medio social Twitter obtenemos los resultados que se muestran en la figura 34. El usuario con más seguidores es Wine Wankers con 344 mil y el usuario Wine Blog Roll es el que menos seguidores tiene con 3 mil. La media de seguidores en los Influencers analizados, señalada en la misma figura, es de 66 mil seguidores.

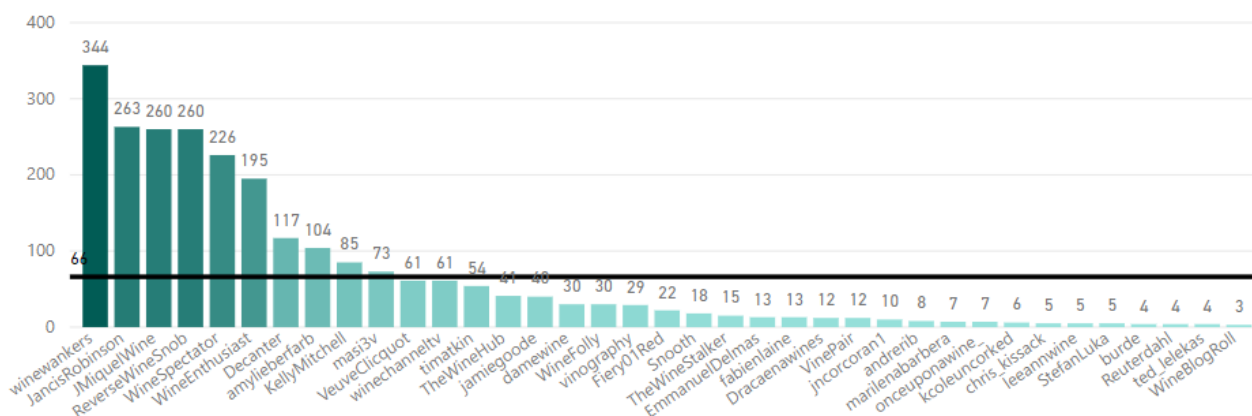

Figura 34. Seguidores por Influencer

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

Otro resultado interesante a partir de los datos de los Influencers analizados es la ubicación de estos. La figura 35 muestra un mapa con el detalle de los países de origen de los Influencers. Asimismo, la tabla 4 muestra el conteo de Influencers por país. El país con mayor número de Influencers relacionados al sector vitivinícola es Estados Unidos con 18, seguido por el Reino Unido con 5.

Figura 35. Influencers por país

Tabla 4. Influencers por país

País	Influencers
Estados Unidos	18
Reino Unido	5
Francia	4
Italia	3
Australia	2
Canadá	1
Grecia	1
Portugal	1
Serbia	1
Suecia	1

De los 18 Influencers identificados en Estados Unidos, se tiene el detalle por estado (tabla 5). Nueva York y California cuentan con el mayor número de Influencers del sector vitivinícola, con 5 y 4 respectivamente. Esto se compara con el total de Influencers de Reino Unido y Francia. El caso de California no resulta tan sorprendente como el de Nueva York, ya que aquel estado de Estados Unidos cuenta con una fuerte cultura vitivinícola.

Tabla 5. Influencers por Estado en EEUU

Estado de Estados Unidos	Influencers
Nueva York	5
California	4
Massachusetts	2
Texas	2
Illinois	1
Minnesota	1
Nueva Jersey	1
Oregón	1
Seattle	1

Finalmente, un valor que pudiera ser relevante de analizar es la clasificación como “verificado” de los usuarios. Verificado, puntualmente en Twitter, es una clasificación de usuarios que determina que su contenido es de interés público. Cabe mencionar que para estar verificado los usuarios deben personalmente seguir un proceso en línea para verificar su identidad, mediante diferentes procesos, con la plataforma de Twitter. De los 37 Influencers analizados, 10 están verificados, entendiéndose que los 27 restantes o no han iniciado el proceso de verificación o no lo han terminado satisfactoriamente.

4.4 Análisis de la muestra de tweets

Como se menciona en la metodología, se utilizaron un total de 5.500 tweets para el análisis en este Trabajo Fin de Máster. Los autores de estos tweets son los 37 Influencers identificados; de Influencers verificados se tienen 1.524 tweets y 3,976 de Influencers no verificados dentro de la plataforma Twitter. La figura 37 muestra el total de tweets que se tienen por cada uno de los Influencers analizados. Del Influencer que menos tweets se tienen es del usuario Ted Lelekas con una muestra de 100 tweets únicamente.

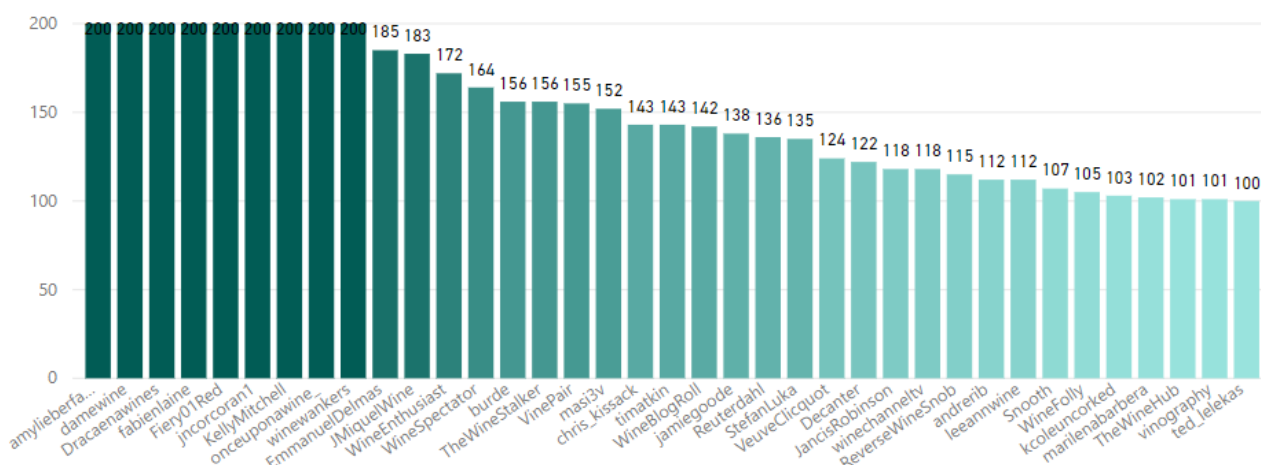

Figura 36. Tweets en muestra por Influencer

Analizando la muestra de tweets se clasificaron entre “Citados” y “Originales”, donde los citados son aquellos retweets a los que los usuarios han hecho una aportación en la publicación, y los originales aquellos tweets que han publicado directamente los Influencers. De los 5.500 tweets solo 4.038 son originales. La figura 37 muestra el mismo total de tweets por Influencers, sombreado la proporción de tweets que son citados en negro.

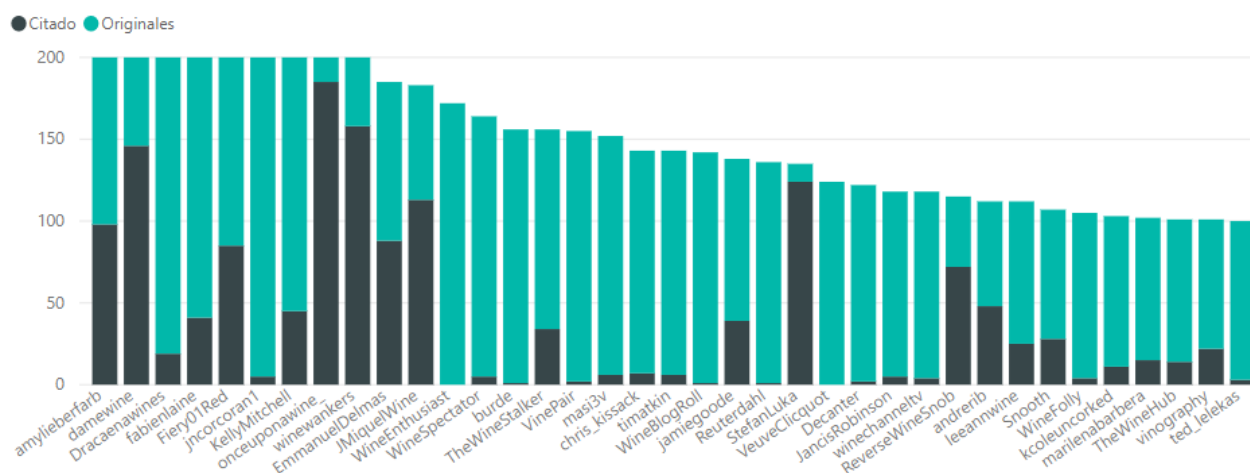

Figura 37. Tweets citados y originales por Influencer

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

Los usuarios con el menor porcentaje de tweets originales son Once Upon a Wine y Stefan Luka con solo un 8% de tweets originales (figura 38). Asimismo, existen dos usuarios con el 100% de tweets originales, el Influencer Wine Enthusiast y la marca Veuve Clicquot, seguidos con el 99% de tweets originales; Burde, Vine Pair, Wine Blog Roll y Reuterdahl.

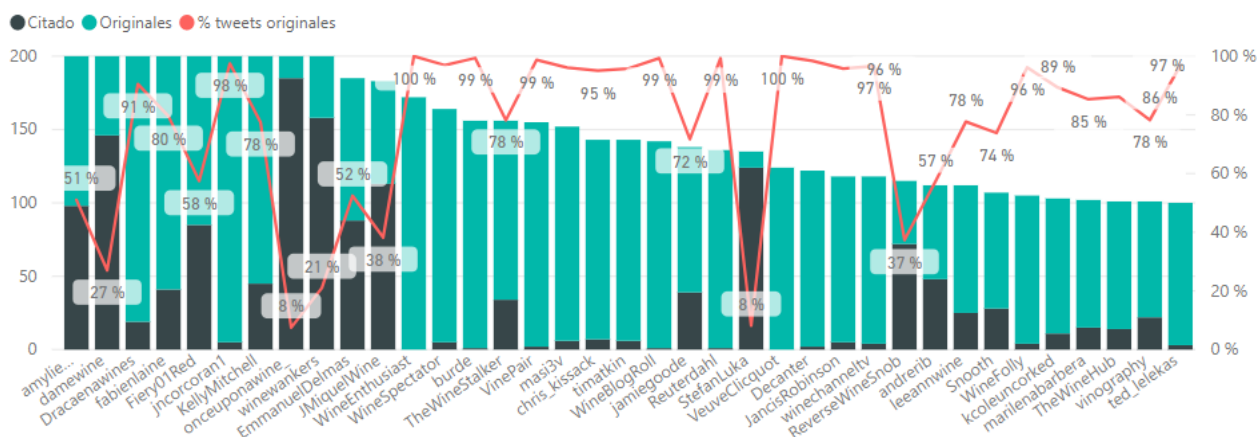

Figura 38. Tweets citados, originales y % de tweets originales por Influencer Resultó relevante analizar tanto el día de creación de contenido como de retweets del mismo contenido. Para esto se utilizaron solo los 4.083 tweets originales. Como muestran las figuras 39 y 40, el viernes es el día con mayor creación de contenido, seguido por jueves y sábado. Un resultado curioso es que los miércoles tienen un alto nivel de retweets a pesar de no ser el día con mayor creación de contenido.

Figura 39. Tweets por día de la semana

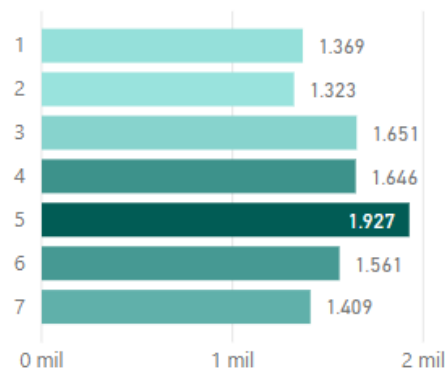

Figura 40. Retweets por día de la semana

4.5 Intersección búsquedas y Hashtags

Como se menciona en la metodología, las palabras clave obtenidas del motor de búsqueda Google se pusieron en una tabla y los Hashtags populares se pusieron en otra tabla distinta. Dentro de la tabla de búsquedas, a partir de la columna con las palabras clave se creó una nueva columna eliminando los espacios entre las palabras de las búsquedas. Por ejemplo, si la búsqueda es “comprar vino online”, la nueva columna tendría el valor “comprarvinoonline”. De esta manera se contrastaron las búsquedas con los Hashtags mediante una relación entre ambas tablas.

La intersección resultante fue de 43 valores, como se muestra en la tabla 6. Sin embargo, solo 10 de estos aparecen en la muestra de tweets analizada, lo cual nos da a entender que existe un área de oportunidad en el uso de los 33 Hashtags restantes para atraer usuarios a las publicaciones. La misma tabla muestra el total de apariciones en publicaciones y el promedio de búsquedas mensuales en Google. Analizando estos dos valores existen etiquetas con muchas apariciones, pero no con muchas búsquedas, como es el caso de “winelover”. Asimismo, existen los casos opuestos, en que el promedio de búsquedas es mucho mayor al volumen de apariciones; como el caso de “winerack” o “rosewine”.

Claramente el mejor escenario es cuando la etiqueta tiene un alto número de búsquedas, un alto número de apariciones y además se usa en los tweets publicados por los Influencers. Sin embargo, como se puede ver en la tabla existen muchos casos en los que esto no ocurre.

Tabla 6. Tweets, apariciones y búsquedas por cada intersección de Hashtag con búsquedas

Las 43 intersecciones entre búsquedas y Hashtags deben servir de referencia para uso de etiquetas en las publicaciones del sector vitivinícola porque, como es lógico, corresponden a las necesidades de contenido que buscan los usuarios. El correcto uso de estas intersecciones como etiquetas en nuevas publicaciones, alineado con el contenido que se desea argumentar o la estrategia a seguir con las mismas, guiará a los usuarios a dicho contenido deseado a través de las búsquedas directamente.

Asimismo, la muestra se puede delimitar a las necesidades estratégicas que se alineen con una campaña de Influencer marketing. Es decir que, de esta muestra pueden seleccionarse aquellas intersecciones que mejor describan las necesidades puntuales que se pretendan satisfacer.

4.6 Contraste de Influencers

En el punto 3.6 de la metodología de este trabajo, se calculan diferentes medidas para cada uno de los Influencers analizados. La siguiente tabla muestra los resultados de estas medidas para cada uno de ellos. Esta tabla está ordenada de manera ascendente por la posición en el ranking del nuevo indicador de influencia. El máximo valor calculado en el nuevo valor de influencia es el 68, y el mínimo es un 10; mientras que en el valor del indicador Klout, el máximo de la muestra es 88 y el mínimo es 69.

Resulta curioso el contraste de las nuevas posiciones; ya que puestos muy altos en el nuevo indicador de influencia pueden ser bajos en el indicador Klout, como es el caso de los Influencers Amy Lieberfarba y Marilena Barbera que son las posiciones 3 y 4 cuando se toma en cuenta el nuevo indicador, pero las posiciones 23 y 24 con el indicador Klout. Esto se debe al alto valor que tienen en las medidas de tweets únicos y retweets. Asimismo, está el caso del Influencer Jancis Robinson que ocupa la posición 34 con un valor de 20 en el nuevo indicador. Sin embargo, cuando se toma en cuenta sólo su valor Klout de 83 ocupa la posición número 2 en ese ranking. Este caso se debe a que el Influencer no hace uso de etiquetas que estén en la intersección con búsquedas realizadas por usuarios, por lo que tiene un valor de 0 en las dos medidas que toman esto en cuenta, reduciendo su valor drásticamente en el nuevo indicador de influencia.

4.6.1 Relación entre medidas

Como se menciona anteriormente, se hicieron diferentes pruebas estadísticas para identificar la correlación entre los indicadores calculados. Un cálculo estadístico que aporta mucho valor a este tipo de análisis es el coeficiente de correlación. La correlación se utiliza para probar la relación que existe entre variables. El coeficiente de correlación asigna un valor de entre -1 y 1, donde el 0 indica que no existe una relación entre las variables, mientras que -1 o 1 indica que hay una correlación negativa o positiva perfecta.

Los resultados fueron los siguientes:

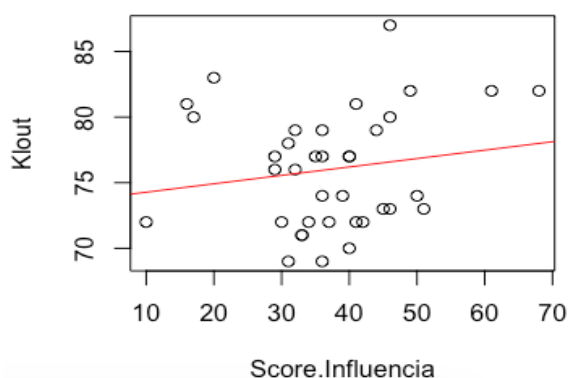

1. Correlación entre la posición en el ranking de los Influencers del indicador Klout contra el nuevo indicador

La correlación es de 0,170697; a pesar de ser positiva, no es muy fuerte.

Figura 41. Correlación entre Posición Klout y posición del indicador de influencia

2. Correlación entre los valores de los Influencers en el indicador Klout contra el nuevo indicador

La correlación es de 0,1641404, y sucede como en el caso anterior, no es muy fuerte.

Figura 42. Correlación entre valor Klout y valor del indicador de influencia

Asimismo, se realizó un análisis de regresión lineal. Este da un enfoque lineal para modelar la relación entre una variable dependiente y una o más variables independientes. De manera general la regresión lineal se calcula con la siguiente fórmula:

$$Y_t = \beta_0 + \beta_1 X_1 + \beta_2 X_2 + \dots + \beta_p X_p + \varepsilon$$

Donde Y representa a la variable dependiente, las X las distintas variables independientes y  $\beta$  los parámetros de influencia de las variables independientes sobre la dependiente. En otras palabras, se grafican los diferentes puntos entre la variable dependiente con cada una de las independientes y el modelo crea una línea que mejor se ajuste a todos los puntos, con el objetivo de predecir los futuros valores.

En los siguientes resultados se muestran 5 resúmenes de resultados, los cuales muestran la siguiente información:

- Residuales. Son la diferencia entre los valores reales observados y los valores que el modelo predijo. Esta sección del modelo lo divide en 5 puntos de resumen. Al evaluar qué tan bien el modelo se ajusta a los datos se busca obtener una distribución simétrica entre estos puntos obteniendo un valor promedio en cero.
- Coeficientes. Son dos constantes que representan los términos de intersección y pendiente en el modelo lineal. En esta sección lo relevante son los asteriscos, cuantos más se muestren más fuerte es la relación entre las variables.
- Error residual estándar. Esta es la medida de calidad de ajuste de la regresión lineal. Todo modelo lineal contiene un término de error E. El error estándar residual es la cantidad promedio que el valor verdadero se desviará de la línea de regresión.
- $R^2$ . Calcula qué tan bien se ajusta el modelo a los datos reales. Se encuentra entre 0 y 1, entre más cercano a 1 mejor se ajusta el modelo.
- F-Statistic. Representa un indicador de si existe una relación entre nuestro predictor y las variables de respuesta. Cuanto más lejos esté la estadística F de 1, mejor.

En este análisis, los resultados más relevantes son los coeficientes, la  $R^2$  (cuya raíz representa el coeficiente de correlación) y la estadística F.

Los asteriscos para cada variable independiente representan una fuerte relación con la variable dependiente. En este caso todas lo muestran, lo cual tiene sentido ya que todas han sido utilizadas para calcular la variable dependiente. La correlación de este caso resultó en 0,9994999, una correlación casi completa. La estadística F es mucho mayor a 1 lo que representa una buena predicción del valor de influencia con las variables independientes en conjunto.

Al analizar como variable dependiente la posición del nuevo indicador, también vemos una fuerte relación con el resto de las variables. En este caso la correlación también es bastante fuerte con un valor de 0,925959. La estadística F es mayor a 1, aunque no tanto como en el caso anterior, pero representa una buena predicción por parte de las variables independientes.

5. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente el indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers sin considerar las intersecciones entre búsquedas y etiquetas.

Cuando pasamos a analizar el valor del indicador Klout como variable independiente, vemos que la regresión lineal muestra una relación fuerte únicamente con los seguidores. Esto tiene mucho sentido ya que, como se ha explicado antes, el Klout toma mucho en cuenta esta medida. La correlación entre la variable dependiente y el resto de las independientes tiene un valor de 0,7088018. Este resultado denota una correlación bastante fuerte; sin embargo, no es tan cercana a 1 como las anteriores. La estadística F es cercana a 1, por lo que no se puede representar una buena predicción del indicador Klout por parte de las variables independientes en conjunto.

6. Regresión lineal con variable dependiente la posición del indicador Klout y con valores independientes el resto de los valores de los Influencers sin considerar las intersecciones entre búsquedas y etiquetas.

En este caso, cuando se analiza como variable dependiente la posición del indicador Klout, la única variable independiente con una fuerte relación sigue siendo el número de seguidores. Para este caso la correlación sigue siendo positiva, pero no tan fuerte como en los casos anteriores, con un valor de 0,6891299. La estadística F es cercana a 1, y tampoco es un modelo con fuerza para predecir la posición en el indicador Klout con todas las variables independientes tomadas en cuenta.

Al agregar como variable independiente el indicador correspondiente a la intersección de búsquedas y etiquetas, la regresión lineal tampoco muestra una fuerte relación con la variable dependiente. La correlación en este caso es de 0,7028513. La estadística F no es muy representativa en este caso.

Los resultados de esta regresión son similares al anterior. No se muestra una relación con la variable independiente agregada y la correlación no es tan fuerte como en casos anteriores. La correlación es de 0,6762396. Igualmente, la estadística F es muy baja.

El análisis de estas correlaciones nos permite entender la diferencia que existe entre el indicador Klout y el indicador de influencia presentado en este Trabajo Fin de Máster. Mientras el Klout pareciera ser una medida de “vanidad” representada por el volumen de popularidad de los usuarios Influencers, este nuevo indicador de influencia se enfoca en las interacciones específicas que tienen estos usuarios en sus redes sociales y su relación con la demanda de contenido de los usuarios generales.

Por todo lo mencionado es por lo que existe una diferencia en las posiciones de los usuarios en ambos rankings, y explica también por qué la correlación entre ambos indicadores es tan baja; se enfocan en variables diferentes. Si bien es verdad que el nuevo indicador se genera a partir de una muestra seleccionada por el valor del indicador Klout, se busca que se complementen el uno al otro hacia el mismo fin, añadir valor a una estrategia de Influencer marketing.

La figura 43 muestra las 10 primeras posiciones en el ranking de Influencers con el nuevo indicador de influencia. En azul se muestra esta posición y en gris la posición relativa al indicador Klout. Estos 10 Influencers serían los óptimos con los cuales colaborar en una estrategia de Influencer marketing enfocada a satisfacer las necesidades de búsqueda de los usuarios en el sector vitivinícola.

Diseño de una metodología para la identificación de Influencers basada en la demanda de contenidos

Las figuras 44 y 45 muestran a los 37 Influencers analizados en este trabajo. En el eje Y está el valor correspondiente al indicador Klout y en el eje X el valor del nuevo indicador de influencia. Sin embargo, en la figura 44, en la escala de color, el verde significa que la diferencia entre posiciones de ambos rankings es menor, y rojo que la diferencia es mayor, con el amarillo siendo un punto medio.

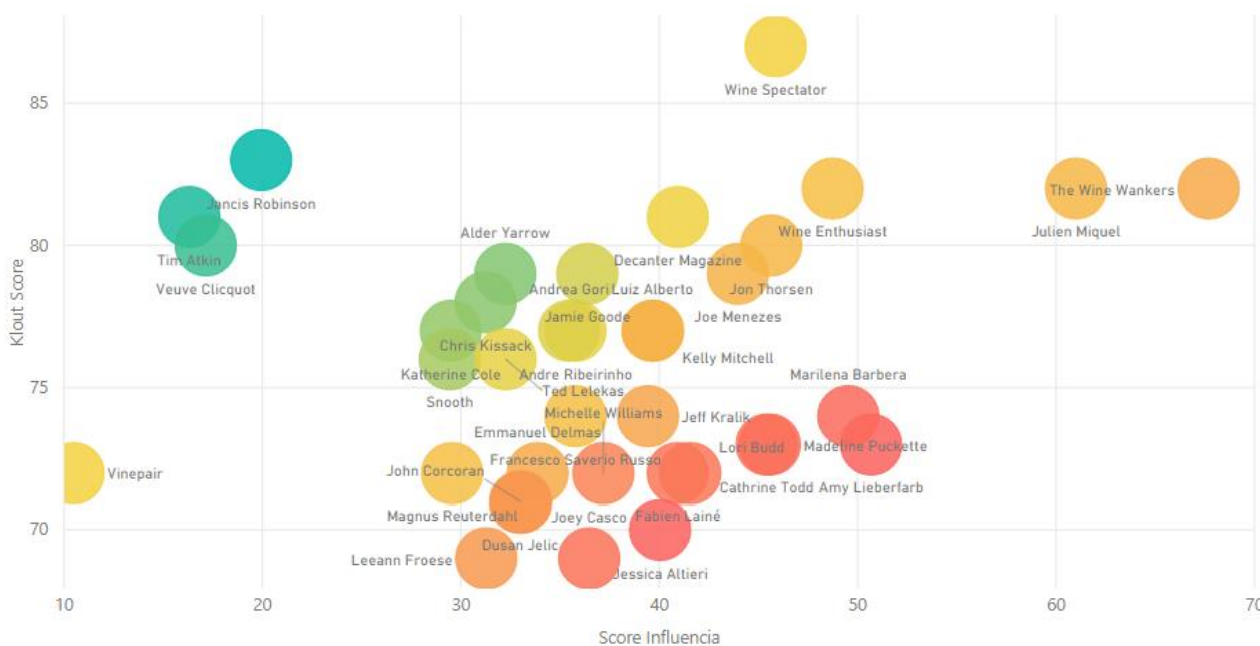

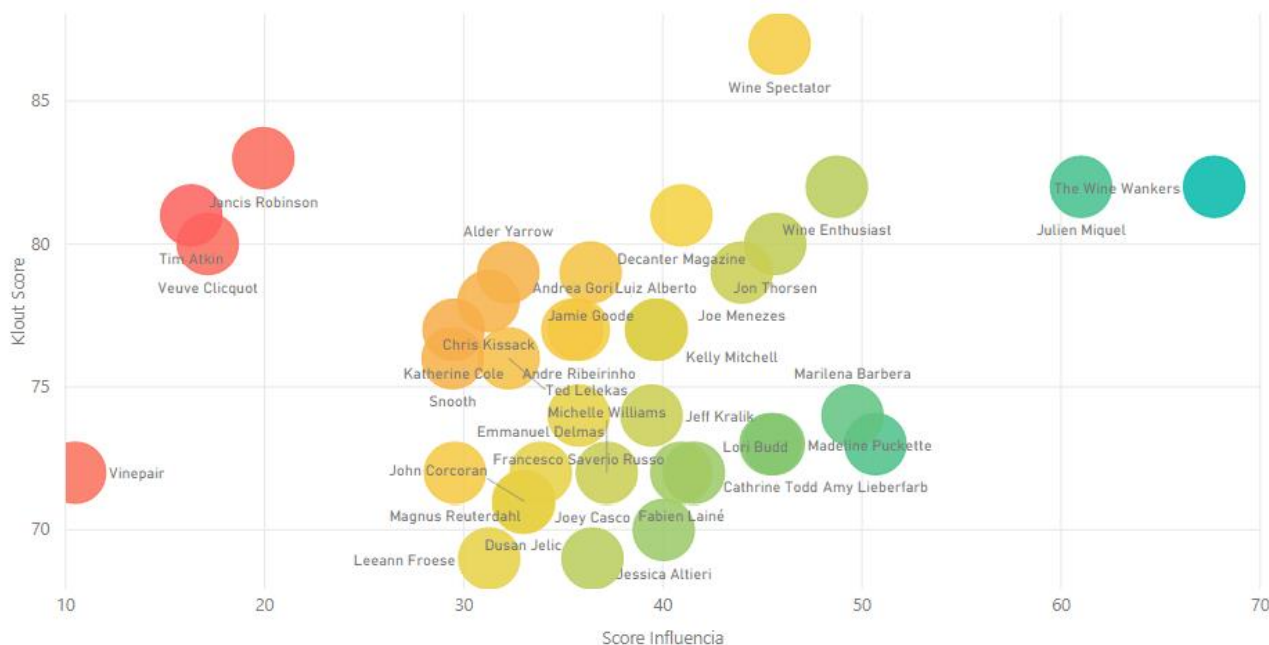

Figura 44. Valor Klout e Influencia por Influencer (Color por diferencia en posición)

En la figura 45, en la escala de color, el verde muestra una diferencia menor entre ambos valores de los indicadores y el color rojo una mayor diferencia entre los valores. El amarillo también marca un punto medio entre la muestra.

5. Conclusiones

En este trabajo se da una propuesta para la mejora de estrategias de Influencer marketing, identificando Influencers en medios sociales basándose en la demanda de contenidos realizada por el resto de los usuarios. Para ello, se han llevado a cabo una serie de análisis de palabras clave en motores de búsqueda, Hashtags y publicaciones realizadas por una muestra de Influencers.

Para cumplir con los objetivos planteados en este trabajo se realizó un estudio de conceptos y temas como los medios sociales, Hashtags, Influencers, posicionamiento web, palabras clave y como el sector vitivinícola hace uso de cada uno de ellos. Asimismo, se ha realizado una investigación de diferentes indicadores existentes para identificar Influencers en diferentes sectores dentro de los medios sociales.

Una vez realizada la investigación, se ha comenzado con la metodología de este trabajo cumpliendo cada uno de los objetivos establecidos al inicio de este mismo.

Objetivo: Integrar las palabras claves en motores de búsqueda y las principales etiquetas en los medios sociales que sean más relevantes en la industria del vino.

Como se explica en los puntos 3.1 y 3.2, se han extraído las palabras clave más utilizadas en motores de búsqueda y los principales Hashtags con los que se etiqueta contenido en los medios sociales, siempre relacionados directamente con el sector vitivinícola. Estos elementos se han integrado y han sido la base para continuar con la metodología.

Objetivo: Identificar los principales Influencers del mundo especializados en el sector del vino (como ejemplo de validación) para analizar sus publicaciones en medios sociales.

Objetivo: Extraer y organizar las últimas publicaciones en Twitter de los Influencers para integrarlas en una base de datos.

La identificación de los principales Influencers en el mundo relacionados con el sector vitivinícola, se ha realizado en base al indicador Klout. La identificación ha resultado en un total de 37 Influencers, a partir de los cuales se ha desarrollado esta metodología. De cada uno de ellos se han extraído las últimas 200 publicaciones en Twitter, que han sido organizadas dentro de una base de datos con la herramienta de PowerBI, junto con las palabras clave y etiquetas.

Una vez con la base de datos se ha realizado un tratamiento de estos para facilitar su manejo y análisis. Para ello se han generado clasificaciones y agrupaciones de conceptos, así como medidas simples de sumatorias o promedios para identificación de tendencias.

Objetivo: Crear medidas relevantes sobre los datos recopilados y representarlas de manera visual como cuadros de mando junto con un indicador para la validación de Influencers.

Con todos estos datos recopilados e integrados en la base de datos, con el apoyo de la herramienta Power BI, se han creado medidas estadísticas que permiten evaluar con una nota de entre 0 y 1 diferentes aspectos de cada uno de los Influencers como su número de seguidores, uso de etiquetas que tienen una intersección con palabras clave en búsquedas de contenido, retweets, favoritos, etc. Haciendo un ponderado de todas estas medidas, se ha generado un nuevo indicador de influencia que asigna un valor de entre 0 y 100 a cada uno de los Influencer; cuanto mayor sea este indicador, más influyente es el usuario según lo estudiado en este trabajo. Una vez con estas medidas y con el apoyo del lenguaje R y la herramienta R studio, se han realizado análisis estadísticos de regresión lineal y correlación para ver la fuerza de cada uno de los indicadores con respecto al indicador Klout y al nuevo indicador de influencia.

Con la misma herramienta de PowerBI, se han generado cuadros de mando con un resumen estructurado de toda la información recopilada y los resultados de los diferentes análisis y medidas creadas a lo largo de la metodología. Con este cuadro de mando se apoya interactivamente a la toma de decisiones de una estrategia de Influencer Marketing.

Finalmente, a partir de todo lo investigado y analizado se han obtenido diferentes resultados a partir de los cuales también se llega a diferentes conclusiones. Estas conclusiones se muestran en el siguiente punto.

5.1 Conclusiones de resultados

En el punto 4 de este trabajo se exponen los resultados obtenidos en la realización del mismo. De estos resultados se desprenden diferentes conclusiones que también dependen del objetivo de aplicación; es decir, la relevancia de estas conclusiones sobre otras depende de cuál es el objetivo de la estrategia de Influencer marketing donde se aplicarían estos resultados.

Cuando se analizaron las palabras clave más buscadas en inglés, se hizo tanto por origen como por competitividad. Entre las más buscadas mundialmente están “liquor store”, “vine” y “wine”, pero cuando analizamos en España y Valencia destacan “vino” y “vine”. Cuando los resultados se analizan con un mayor margen (como las 25 primeras posiciones), se identifican tendencias de búsqueda de los usuarios en este sector, como tipos de uva o accesorios para el consumo del vino. Incluso surgen palabras clave que nos ayudan a entender el proceso de consumo del vino que tienen los usuarios.

Analizando las palabras clave por competitividad, los resultados pueden ser de gran utilidad ya que permiten tener una idea clara de lo que los usuarios están buscando y como otros anunciantes o competidores están haciendo uso de esta información. Entre las palabras clave más buscadas con una competitividad alta destacan las relacionadas a accesorios para consumir vino como “wine glasses”, “wine cooler” y “wine rack”. Por el contrario, entre las palabras clave con competitividad baja destacan “liquor store”, “vine”, “wine”, “burdeaux” y “prosecco”. Cabe mencionar que las palabras clave con una competitividad baja suelen tener más búsquedas en general.

De los resultados del análisis de etiquetas con más publicaciones en inglés destacan “redwine”, “winetasting” y “winelover”. En el idioma inglés las etiquetas del contenido web relacionado con el vino suelen ser más creativas y se relacionan directamente con el estilo de vida de los usuarios. En el caso del idioma español, destacan “vinotinto”, “vinos” y “vinorosso”. En este idioma las etiquetas son más literales al tipo de vino con el que se relaciona la publicación o al país de origen con el que relaciona el vino en cuestión dentro de la publicación. Asimismo, se identifica que las etiquetas en inglés suelen tener más apariciones, lo cual podría resultar práctico a la hora de crear campañas en redes sociales.

Los resultados del análisis de las características de los 37 Influencers identificados muestran que la mayoría de estos usuarios relacionados al sector vitivinícola están en Estados Unidos, principalmente en Nueva York y California. De manera general, tomando en cuenta los 37 Influencers, tienen una media de 66mil seguidores, donde el usuario con más seguidores cuenta con 344 mil, y el que menos con tan solo 3 mil. Cabe mencionar que la media del valor en el indicador Klout es de 77, y todos cumplen con la condición de un valor mayor a 63 en este mismo indicador.

De los 5,500 tweets analizados en la muestra, también se obtuvieron resultados interesantes como que solo 4.038 son tweets originales y el resto son citados de una publicación original. Los usuarios con el menor porcentaje de tweets originales son Once Upon a Wine y Stefan Luka con solo un 8% de tweets originales. Asimismo, existen dos usuarios con el 100% de tweets originales, el Influencer Wine Enthusiast y la marca Veuve Clicquot. Seguidos con el 99% de tweets originales encontramos a Burde, Vine Pair, Wine Blog Roll y Reuterdahl. La muestra de tweets analizados también arrojó resultados interesantes como que el día de la semana con más tweets generados es el viernes, seguido del jueves y el sábado.

Al hacer un cruce entre las etiquetas obtenidas y las palabras clave de búsquedas realizadas en Google, se han generado resultados bastante interesantes a partir de las 43 intersecciones. De estas 43, solo 10 aparecen en la muestra de tweets analizada, lo cual da a entender que existe un área de oportunidad en el uso de las 33 etiquetas restantes para atraer usuarios a las publicaciones. Analizando también el total de apariciones en publicaciones y el promedio de búsquedas mensuales en Google, existen etiquetas con muchas apariciones, pero no con muchas búsquedas, como es el caso de “winelover”. Asimismo, existen los casos opuestos, en que el promedio de búsquedas es mucho mayor al volumen de apariciones, como el caso de “winerack” o “rosewine”. Finalmente, de esta intersección con 43 resultados pueden seleccionarse aquellas etiquetas que mejor describan las necesidades puntuales que se pretendan satisfacer en una campaña de Influencer marketing.

Con todos los datos cargados en la base de datos y después de hacer un análisis puntual de cada uno de ellos, se crearon 6 medidas específicas que asignan un valor a cada uno de los Influencers con relación a su número de favoritos, seguidores, retweets, volumen de tweets creados, tweets únicos y el uso de los valores en la intersección entre etiquetas y búsquedas. Todas estas medidas ponderadas llevaron a la generación de un nuevo indicador de influencia con el que fueron revalorados los 37 Influencers, quedando en primera posición “The Wine Wankers”. Se puede concluir que una campaña de Influencer marketing en colaboración con este usuario, y complementando el uso de las etiquetas en sus publicaciones con aquellas con una intersección con búsquedas, puede dar resultados satisfactorios.

Con relación a la valoración del resto de usuarios, en el nuevo indicador de influencias pueden existir variaciones al indicador Klout ya que, como mencionamos antes, el nuevo indicador no pretende sustituir al Klout, sino complementarlo. Existen posiciones altas en el nuevo indicador de influencia que son bajas en el indicador Klout, como Amy Lieberfarba y Marilena Barbera que ocupan las posiciones 3 y 4 en el nuevo indicador, pero las 23 y 24 con el Klout debido al alto valor que tienen en las medidas de tweets únicos y retweets. Por otra parte, está Jancis Robinson que ocupa la posición 34 con un valor de 20 en el nuevo indicador, pero obtiene un 83 en el Klout ocupando la posición número 2 del ranking.

Finalmente, como se muestra en el punto 4.6.1, se realizaron validaciones de la fuerza entre las diferentes medidas con el nuevo indicador de influencia. Los análisis de correlación y regresión lineal mostraron que el nuevo indicador puede ser predicho tomando en cuenta las medidas creadas en el modelo y puede predecirse el valor de los Influencers en el nuevo indicador siempre que se conozcan el resto de los datos. Los resultados muestran satisfactoriamente como mediante esta metodología se puede elegir un Influencer en medios sociales con el cual colaborar en una campaña de Influencer marketing que potencialmente lleve al éxito.

5.2 Investigación futura

Este trabajo es una base sólida para la identificación de Influencers en medios sociales relacionados con el sector vitivinícola. Sin embargo, existen diferentes mejoras para la continuación de esta investigación y diseño de metodología; mejoras que con una mayor disponibilidad de tiempo y recursos son completamente realizables.

Una de las principales mejoras sería tomar una muestra de publicaciones mayor, para lo cual sería necesario montar un servidor que estuviera recopilando información constantemente y almacenándola de manera organizada y lista para su uso con la plataforma de PowerBI. De la mano con esta mejora, habría que alimentar la base de datos con datos de otros medios sociales como publicaciones Facebook o imágenes publicadas en Instagram para enriquecer el análisis.

Otro aspecto importante que sería interesante y enriquecedor de hacer, ya sea como investigación futura o como parte de una investigación de doctorado, sería aplicar esta metodología a un caso práctico en la creación de una estrategia de Influencer marketing y probar los diferentes escenarios y resultados de Influencers. De esta manera se podrían probar los diferentes resultados y a partir de la retroalimentación mejorar la metodología.

Asimismo, como se ha mencionado anteriormente, la metodología expuesta en este trabajo pretende ser extrapolable a cualquier otro sector. Este trabajo como tal busca ser una nueva herramienta en la creación de una estrategia de Influencer marketing sin importar el sector y el número de Influencers del mismo, proporcionando más información y detalle que ayuden a guiar y delimitar la estrategia.

Los medios sociales crecen y se desarrollan cada día. Es por eso por lo que trabajos como este son necesarios para hacer un uso óptimo de estos medios por parte de las empresas, y que la interacción entre estas y el resto de los usuarios pase de ser un bombardeo publicitario a una relación ganar-ganar.

On the left is a navigation menu with the following items: Overview, Authentication, Login Permissions, Permissions Review, Sandbox Mode, Secure Requests, Endpoints, Embedding, Mobile Sharing, Libraries, Support, Changelog, and Platform Policy. The main content area features a yellow warning box at the top with the following text: 'To continuously improve Instagram users' privacy and security, we are accelerating the deprecation of Instagram API Platform, making the following changes effective immediately. We understand that this may affect your business or services, and we appreciate your support in keeping our platform secure. These capabilities will be disabled immediately (previously set for July 31, 2018 or December 11, 2018 deprecation). The following will be deprecated according to the timeline we shared previously: Public Content - all remaining capabilities to read public media on a user's behalf on December 11, 2018; Basic - to read a user's own profile info and media in early 2020. For your reference, information on the new Instagram Graph API.' Below this is a 'Hello Developers' section with the text: 'The Instagram API Platform can be used to build non-automated, authentic, high-quality apps and services that: Help individuals share their own content with 3rd party apps. Help brands and advertisers understand, manage their audience and media rights. Help broadcasters and publishers discover content, get digital rights to media, and share media with proper attribution.' A button labeled 'Register Your Application' is followed by the text 'then dive into the documentation'. A faint Instagram camera icon is visible in the background of the 'Hello Developers' section.
